From Every Point of the Compass Comes the Same Cheering News -- Tremendous Socialist Vote.

FIGHT PREDICTED BY HANNA IS ON

Let No Socialist Comrade Hesitate--Take Up the Battle Gage and Push Onward to the Goal -- Disappearance of Democrat, Populist and S. L. Parties.

The battle of ballots for 1904 is over. The battle of ballots for 1906 has commenced.

Now that the atmosphere is cleared a bit and we can begin to figure on results, four very important facts stand out so plainly that even the most prejudiced partisan can see.

First. The Socialist party takes its place as the formidable opponent of republicanism.

Second. The disintegration and utter collapse of the reorganized

Third. The passing of the populist party.

Fourth. The disappearance of the Socialist labor party.

In its onward sweep social progress cares as little for political pardoes the giant octopus for its little competitor.

hen a political organization, as the expression of a principle of progress, has outlived its usefulness it is cast aside.

New ideas demand new vehicles of expression.

Advancing society finds in neither of the three latter parties the vitality necessary to handle the new problems confronting mankind.

They are ruthlessly brushed aside—and no one cares except a few disappointed politicians who expected to ride to power under their Hanna's prophecy is approaching fulfillment. The fight of the future is between Socialism, representing the working class, and republicanism, representing the capitalist class.

Every Socialist will take courage as he reads the election returns. He understands that the battle-field has been cleared of the debris cumbering the ground, and that from henceforth until the banner of International Socialism floats victoriously over the western hemisphere it's a fight to the finish.

From every state, from every county, comes the word that all along the line preparations are being made for the campaign of 1906. Here in Crawford county we have called a county convention to meet the latter part of November to perfect plans for a systematic distribution of literature from house to house, a school house campaign and a close organization by voting precincts.

It's good to live, comrades, and the Appeal extends its congratulations to the great army of Socialist workers throughout America who on Tuesday of last week registered their voices in favor of the Better Way. Gird up your belt, take a deep breath and wade*in. There is no place for sluggards!

A Conservative Estimate of the Total Vote for the Socialist Ticket places the Number 8 at 800,000. The Official Count Will Add 8 to This Number.

Does History Repeat Itself. It Will in This Instance.

This was the positive, "deny-it-if-you-can" message which President Buchanan sent to congress in 1859. He was talking about the sacredness of private property in black men and women.

He was upheld by the supreme court!

Back of him stood the American people, who had, by their votes, in overwhelming numbers, endorsed this opinion.

In 1844, when the anti-slavery sentiment first developed, the democratic party-representing the dominant political thought-had a bare plurality of votes. After years of agitation against that party and its policies, it steadily increased its adherents, until in the year 1800 it secured an endorsement by a larger vote than given to any political party or presidential candidate up to that time.

This gave the slave-holding aristocracy confidence-and it maintained, even up to the very eve of its overthrow, an air of haughty indifference to the changing economic conditions.

But it reckoned without considering the great social forces at work. It overlooked the fact that society is no solid crystal, but is constantly chang-

The republican party, the political expression of capitalism and the open advocate of wage slavery. faces a situation analogous to that which confronted the slave-holding aristocracy just before its verthrow, and at a time when it considered its poition secure. It had perfect reason to feel secure, ecause it had the votes, the supreme court and the law-making machinery of government.

Today the republican party is stronger, politically, than ever before. It will at the polls this year receive a larger vote than ever before in its between 1856 and the election of Lincoln. I want to register my confident belief that the Socialists of America can ciset a Socialist presi-

Do you believe that?
