Toward the Goal

The Socialist movement is in full wing today all over the United States. The recent national election impressed be reckoned with in future camyou, were straight Socialist votes and could by no artifice of capitalism be swerved from their Socialist faith. Added to these million votes there is undoubtedly another million Socialiets who for one reason and another were distranchised, incligible to vote, or in some manner cheated out of their votes, it is therefore, certain that at a conmarkable degree of progress has been achieved within less than twenty years and that now the prejudice against Sccialism among the common people is not to be compared to what it was ten years ago, the outlook is bright in-deed and only the confirmed pessimist could find fault with it. But pessimists are not in the Socialist ranks. Pessi-min is discalled by the Socialist and mism is dispelled by the Socialist phi-

by imagining that the work is done and that we can now let things drift until the goal is reached. There could be no greater mistake, nor a more mischievous one in its results. With growing power we are placed under greater respondity. We have now to solldity strengthen our organization so that it will be prepared for any test the future may have in store for it. Without organization, sound and thorough, we shall be unprepared, and thereugh, we shall be unprepared, and the fruits of victors, if any be achieved, will turn to askes upon out lips.

Now is the time for us to diligently apply ourselves to the perfecting of the machinery of organization. The party must be made strong and effective in every county of every state, and in order to be strong in the county it must penetrate into each township, and to accomplish this in the face of the difficulties that confront us is a task that will tax all the ability and energy at our command.

But political organization aloue is not sufficient. Economic unionism is of supreme importance. The workers in every industry must organize their power by industries and bring this power to bear on the struggle for freedom.

Theroughly organized as may be, both upon the economic and the political field, the united workers will march toward the goal absolutely certain of victory.

THE postoffice at Fuller, Ransas, was robbed one evening about seven o'clock in February, 1911. Fuller is a small mining camp ten miles east of Girard. On the night in question, four registered packages containing currency were received by the postmistress, Mrs. Joseph, addressed to the Sheridan Coal Mining company, It was the practice of the postmistress to Mitchell had purchased a restaurant in Pittsburg and that he had paid for the restaurant with checks drawn on banks in which he had deposited currency! This closed the case for the panied by the cashier of the Sheridan Coal company, the postmistress started from the postoffice to the building occupied by the coal company with the registered packages containing the currency. A man wearing a slouth hat suddenly emerged from the darkness and flourishing a revolver demanded the money. He wrested one of the packages from Mrs. Joseph and disappeared in the gloom.

THE ALARM was spread and in a short time a crowd had collected in the postofice and about the building. Two deputy sheriffs from Girard reached the scene of the robbery on double quick time and began an investigation. From Mrs. Joseph the officers learned that the man who had committed the robbery was a short cialist, for the office of county assessor, was decided by the contest board in favor of Reeder. It developed that the republicans had absolutely no grounds whatever on whish to bring this contest, and it had not proceeded far intil it developed into a farce. It was current comment on the streets of Girard before the contest court opened for business that the republicans would steal the office as they had stolen the office of county commissioner from the democrats two years ago. They found, however, that they were dealing with an entirely different opponent. Christmas Hypocrisy

Christmas Hypocrisy

Dispairing of other means of stopping Socialist agitation the masters are about to precipitate a war. Taft has issued an ultimatum to Mexico that unless the "interests" of America are protected he will establish a protectorate over that country. The response has been a reported massacre of Americans—whether fake or not.

Still, the American people are not enthusing to any great extent. While doubtless some would enlist in case of war, the Christmas season as a time for pulbing off a war does not speak very well for the great custodians of religion, the American capitalists. Thousands surely not go, and other thousands will surely not go, and other thousands will vehemently protest against a war of conquest for the benefit of capitalists alone.

Emerson.

He who would truly serve his fellow men must forget self and pick the common burden of the lowly and the oppressed and enter that path which the ploneers of the revolution have blazed for us through the dark jungle of superstition, ignorance and prejudice. There is no more hazardous task than that of carrying the torch of reason into those gloomy recesses where no ray of truth has ever shone. And yet someone must do the work. Someone must show the way out of the loathsome caves, or humanity would be asphyxiated by the deadly fumes of a putrid industrial system.

The revolutionist sees strewn around him on all sides the mangled victims of the carry and she can be and many others in the row way of the loathsome caves, or humanity would be asphyxiated by the deadly fumes of a putrid industrial system.

As far as I am concerned, being one of the said contestants am not in it for the prize and don't care whether it cost $20 or 20 cents (although there is a cash offer of $100 to the win nee). That's not what I am in it for but only for the good I can do. I know right from wrong. Your condemnation of the Appall they ought to consider a compil ment. I would. You condemn Wayland but that is no discredit to its memory. He was honest and fearless and had the respect of his town people. He didn't have to carry a cusnon around with him for to carry a cusnon around with him for self-protection in fear of his life, as he no doubt would have had he had a guilty conscience. I heard few, hen Jones preach in your city twenty-five years ago. He said the worst times he ever saw was in that city. What he meant was a publication by that name, that he was trying to preach the truth and would not allow the paper in his back yard. Were you its editor then? Woll anywey we see no improvement. The only good I can see you are doing is to attack the grand od Ar Peal, for the same is a recommendation to our propaganda. The names Wayland. Warren and Debs will live in history along with Lincoln. Where shall we look for yours? When I was in Loo Anceles seven years ago. my friends made me ashamed to tell my given name, which is Oits, so I will just sign it O. M. Southworth, Ben ton Harbor. Mich.

"LOOK OUT. OTIS!

These words, uttered by Francis J. Hency, the celebrated lawyer and special prosecutor on a certain memorable eccasion, are recalled by the vicious attempt of Harrison Gray Otis, the grey wolf of the Pacific coast, to slander this paper out of existence by charging in with having been guilty of graft, of which he has the exclusive monopoly

It will be remembered that under the Southern Pacific railroad domination of which Otis leprous sheet, the Los Angeles Times, was the chief organ, conditions became so rotten that the people threatened to rise in open revolt against them. The legislature had for years been made by the S. P. and the other than the other against them. The legislature had for years been made by the S. You can help Socialism more than you think. Go after your local or other papers that you take. If you are not confident in writing an article on the subject, you can ask some ruestions about Socialism and have their editors answer. This will keep the master in the public keep the matter in the public eye. That is essential. The people will get interested in a subject that is brought to their attention often. Take up some local incident and show how it could be made a benefit under Socialism. Take up some pub-lic question and throw the Solic question and throw the Socialist searchlight on it. Be brief. Don't try to see how much you can write, but how SHORT you can make it to express what you feel. Editors don't like long artirles. A twenty or forty line article will get a hearing where the column or two article will go to the waste basket without being read, even by the editor. GO AFTER YOUR EDITORS. In no other way can you do so no other way can you do so much good. Do it every week or two. Study books and qual-ify yourselves to defend the cause against all comers. That is the way every writer on the subject had to do. You have brains, but they are useless unless trained. We quote from the article of Covingmilitary despotism in the state of West Virginia are both swept aside. The civil rights of working men and the constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and of action, are interly destroyed.

Briefly stated the facts in this case are as follows: Early last spring, almost a year ago, the West Virginia mine operators refused the pittance of a per cent increase granted by the operators of all other states. The miners, after trying in every other way to secure a settlement, went out on strike. The miners after trying in every other way to secure a settlement, went out on strike. The late William Mailly in an article is one of the few cartoonists in Amer is one of the few cartoonists in America who takes his work seriously. The great majority are utterly devoid of idealism. They are merely time serves, devoted to material interests and the gospel of getting on. They have no inspiration for their work and they don't need any. The ideas which they illustrate are not their own, they draw as their employers tell them to. They have little or no conception of the great social importance of their work, and art to them is usually a theme for mirth art to them is usually a theme for mirth and ridicule. But Walker works at all times with a central principle directing the thought that guides the pencil. This is the creative principle, embodying the constructive with the critical, analyzing. revealing, interpreting, producing, all
