And where can this remedy be found? What is the next step?

Don't think for a moment that the fight is over or that the operators ar going to be good and let you have your own way. They still have the mines and unless they can run them at a profit they will not be operated at all.

Already they are threatening to go into the courts and have some of the laws declared unconstitutional, and if they can succeed in having the shotfiring law, the miners' qualification law and a few other laws declared unconstitutional, where are you at?

Heady for Politics

Already they are preparing for the next campaign, and if they cannot have the laws declared unconstitutional, they still have recourse to the next legis lature, and those who have watched the trend of events in the past sessions well know how legislation is secured. Even if the "bathroom bunch" is not returned to Springfield and Lee O'Neil Browne and the others don't go to jail, the same influence that has corrupted the legislature for lo these many years is still at large and, as in the past, will furnish all the "slush fund" necessary to secure the legislation they desire.

What Will You Do?

And what are you going to do about it? You who have more than eighty per cent of the votes, are you going to permit the few employers, with less than twenty per cent of the votes, to dictate the terms? It's up to you, but if you let the other fellow name the candidates, make the platform and dictate the policies, don't come around afterward and kick after it's all over.

Of course, you're going to vote for the good fellows, "the friends of labor" who recognize no class distinctions, who work for capital and labor alike, who never did any wrong to labor. Oh, no! Unless it was some scheme to hold up some employer, so that they would be eligible for some of the "jackpot" money. Will You Beg?

Are you going to send your lobbying committee around as usual to beg for egielation or are you going to assert your right at the ballot box and send your own representatives to the legislature? It's up to you, and if you don't do this, don't blame anyone but yourselves.

During the strike you stood shoulder to shoulder; you said: "No compromise." The next strike is going to be at the ballot box. Are you going to say the same there?

Will you say, "No compromise," or are you going to turn "seah" on election day and compromise by electing some two-by-four lawyer who is

The reason that this series of Injunctions is such a hard blow to the Labor party is that it costs about 15.000 to elect a man to parliament and he must supported while serving his term. It has been said that the government is prepared to compromise the matter and allow members of parliament 11.000 a year. The Laborites agree that such payment is desirable, but they indist that the ight of the unions to assess their members shall be jegalized.

These remarks of John McLennan president of the Colorado State Federation of Labor, in welcoming the 150 dele gates of the International Union of Steam Engineers at their opening session at the Albany hotel, brought forth much applause, as did all reference to the step in advance Colorado has taken in the passage of the initiative and referendum measures.
"In no other state in the union has unionism been so bitterly assailed as it has in Colorado," continued McLennan. "It is always on the firing line, but is Denver Waiters Walk Out

Carpenters Get Blame

H. S. Perogrine, secretary of the local branch of engineers, welcomed the men who have charge of the stationary engines of the country. August Koester spoke for the Denver Trades and Labor Assembly and J. C. Barrett, president of the Building Trades Council, gave a clear statement of the differences among the building trades unions of Denver and blamed the dissension on the failure to enforce discipline on the part of the officers of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor. He was backed up by Matthew Comerford, president of the stationary engineers, who said that the troubles of Denver unions were all due to the Brotherhood of Carpenters.

The convention is going to witness the prettiest battle it has ever seen for the prettiest battle it has ever seen for the office of international president. Matthew R. THIS IS THE PLAN:

First of all, we want you to patronize advertisers in the Daily. When we ask this we do not ask that you do anything impossible. Our advertisers can supply your wants as well and as reasonably as any one else.

The next thing to do is to convince the merchant that our readers Do patronize advertisers, and that he can get results by placing his advertising in the Daily Socialist. Right here is where YOU must make use of the PUR-CHASERS' LEAGUE BOOK.

The Purchasers' League Book is just a small four-page folder to be used for keeping a record of purchases made from our advertisers. When you buy something from them, have the salesman register the amount in this book.

Finally turn in the book to the office of the Daily Socialist and receive credit.

Bishop Muldoon on Labor

Bishop Muldoon is reported to have preached at Rockford a Labor Day sermon which contains some good advice for union men.

The Bishop advises union men to attend the meetings of their unions, and to use their influence in behalf of the election of clean, honest men for office in the unions.

The Socialist party has been giving this advice for a long time, and we are glad the Bishop indorses our views on that matter.

The Bishop also advises Catholic working men to attend the services of the Catholic church, etc. Being absolutely neutral in religious matters, we have nothing to say on that point.

The Bishop, however, goes on to say (according to report):

"Do not allow labor to be tied to any political party; for cursed will be the days when Socialism steps in and dominates labor. "Laboring men sometimes think that those who proclaim it loudest are its best friends. Its best friends, however, are not these, but the religious men and women who understand what life is and what labor represents. "Fight Socialism in your labor unions, and do not allow it to gain a foothold, if you desire labor to advance. Labor can become strong in herself if she relies on her merits, but God help her if she ties to any isms."

These are pretty strong statements. Are they justified?

Let us begin with the last one:

"God help labor if she ties to any isms."

We never knew there was so much in the mere ending of Behold! Social-ISM! An "ISM"! Away! Beware! God help you! How about the CatechISM, Bishop?

"Do not allow labor to be tied to any political party, for cursed will be the day when Socialism steps in and dominates labor."

Thank you, Bishop. We hardly thought you would go so far as to admit that for labor TO TIE TO A POLITICAL PARTY, means the same thing as TO ALIGN ITSELF WITH SOCIALISM—at least in the long run. Yet you are unquestionably right. The inevitable outcome of the entry of labor into politics nowadays spells "Socialism."

It has been thus in Germany, in France, in Belgium, in Italy, in Spain, in Denmark, in Sweden, in Norway, in Holland, in Russia, in Japan, in Turkey, in South America, and everywhere else where in late years the workers have really gone into politics for their

It made no difference whether these workers were Protestant or Catholic Christians, Jews, Mohammedans, or Buddhists-they went, and are going, into the Socialist movement with singular accord, as soon as they begin to really take an intelligent interest in

Now, Bishop, when things happen in such a strange way, there

That reason lies in the fact that the workers are finding out by bitter experience that ONLY BY THEMSELVES CONTROL-LING THE INDUSTRIAL, AS WELL AS THE POLITICAL, AFFAIRS of the nations can the workers free themselves from poverty, degradation and dependence; and further that ONLY BY THE COMMON OWNERSHIP OF THE GREAT MEANS OF production and distribution can the workers attain independence, competence, and security from want and worry—AND THAT MEANS SOCIALISM!

And don't you think, Bishop, that it is hardly fair to talk of a movement as "dominating labor" which everywhere is the SERV-ANT OF LABOR, which everywhere is utterly DOMINATED BY LABOR—in fact, is merely the INSTRUMENT OF LABOR, and the expression of its needs and aspirations?
You, Bishop, as an educated man, have no excuse in misrepresenting these facts through ignorance or prejudice.

III.

"Labor's best friends are not those who proclaim it loudest, but the religious men and women who understand what life is and what labor represents."

Well, Bishop, we go further than that.

We do not care to bother discussing who are the "best friends" dition and previous experience.

These are not the middle ages.

Labor knows what is going on in the world.

Intelligent labor cannot be frightened by scarecrows.

Intelligent labor is fast learning that Socialism is not prevent.

Intelligent labor is fast learning that Socialism is not preventing labor from advancing, but that, on the contrary, labor actually CANNOT COME INTO HER OWN WITHOUT SOCIALISM; that she CANNOT RISE from dependence, subordination and poverty WITHOUT CONTROLLING AND OWNING THE MEANS OF LIFE.

Not only that, but intelligent labor sees that wherever Socialists have been elected to office, they invariably have acted not only in the interest of labor, but AS LABOR HERSELF; have been successful in forcing concessions; have been true, and stanch; and that invariably LABOR, THROUGH THEM, HAS ADVANCED MILWAUKEE, Bishop, is TOO CLOSE TO ROCKFORD AND CHICAGO, for your assertion to be taken seriously. ## The Church and Socialism

That the church is beginning to realize the true posttion of the Socialists and to understand that the church has no fight against Socialism is evinced by several speakers at the Anglican Bicentenary Church congress, which is being held in Hollfax, Canada.

The attitude of the church toward Socialism was discussed by Professor Adam Shortt, who sympathized with the church in endeavoring to deal with Socialism.

The Globe of Toronto in giving a report of Professor Shortt's speech says: "The church should ignore names and labels end deal only with the real things in Socialism, which, however, could not be defined precisely, but it was impossible for the church to deal with all the great economic problems. Many things are common to both the church and Socialism. Both are struggling with great common problems.

"Radical Socialism undertakes to solve these things. "Hadical Socialism undertakes to solve these things. Man demands far more than de can get, and his range in this life is so limited that he is doomed to disappointment. The radical Socialist regarded the church and all other institutions of civilization as in league against him, but the most radical were often the most Economic Socialists maintain that all wealth should

"Economic Socialists maintain that all weath should belong to those who do the work, and Professor Shortt had known clergy of the church in British Columbia to adopt the principle of this radical type of Socialism. "Don't attempt," he said in conclusion, to discuss questions with Socialists unless you know something about their principles, or the last state may be worse than the first."

Pollowing this, Mr. Silas McBee, editor of The Church-

man of New York, said, according to the Globe:
"The church's attitude toward Socialism should be the same as toward any other ism. She is rot y-re to destroy men's opportunity in any direction, but to help them to a tion of class or occupation debars men from full freedom in the church, but men do not believe this.

"They have not found out what the church stands for. They regard it as an institution for the few. But the tendency of the day is democratic, toward the enjoyment of principles by the many.

"If the world could but see clearly the social aspects of incarnation in the life of the organized church there would be great hope for the solution of this problem. If organized Christianity were social, not individualistic, we would have made an advance.

"The inspiring truth of this age is that we are learn-"The inspiring truth of this age is that we are learn-wages, in full value, and such a man has no attitude to-ward the church."

Other speakers were: Rev. W. W. Craig of Montreal and Rev. W. H. Van Allen of Boston, who defined the church as the body of Christ and Socialism as that move-ment which considers men as allies. True Socialistic lead-ers are sometimes astray in their theology, but so are theologians in their sociology. Righteousness should be understood as equivalent to justice.

Brotherhood a Fact in Nature

BY C. B. HOFFMAN

Man is gregarious. He loves company. To be with others is happiness, to be alone unhappiness For ages immemorial he has lived in horde, tribe, clan and nation. In ever expanding circles has he expanded the boundaries of brotherhood until today he is almost ready to abolish nation lines and frontiers and meet all men as brothers.

Brotherhood is a law of nature, inexorable and unequivocal as gravity. It works both waystowards heaven or towards hell.

Oppress a man, strike a woman, rob a child in the factories of England and the effect is felt

Open the door of opportunity, liberate labor, be fair to the worker and just to the child in Milwaukee and the toilers of the world rejoice.

Brotherhood is the law. Every creed, every law, every system, every custom that controvenes it, and prevents its application to the affairs of daily life, causes public distress, turmoil, war and private, personal disease, suffering and death.

The Golden Rule: "Do unto others what ye would have others do unto you" is its affirmation. The Rule of Gold: "Every one for himself and the devil take the hindmost" is its denial.

Theology, statescraft, industry and commerce are still largely based upon the old world individualistic idea that each one must live for himself and find the highest in personal salvation and pro-here and there a towering monument to a merchant prince.

Society divides itself into rich and poor. Whoever doubts the existence of caste in America, let him attempt to attend a full dress affair in plain clothes and his doubt will be quickly removed.

This old world idea of separateness and separate interests is challenged on every field by the ng consciousness that unity is the law of life and that the welfare of one is the concern of all.

Man is about to realize himself. United in universal brotherhood he becomes master of nature, controls and directs her forces and rules the planet he inhabits. There is still one formidable obstacle in the way of attainment.

It is the fact that a large portion of the race has insufficient food, inadequate clothing and wretched habitations. Many men, women and children must exhaust themselves in hard and dangerous toil for a scant, pitiful living.

These have been denied the benefits of science, art, invention and commerce. They have been refused their equitable share in the common good, in the fruits of civilization. They are barred from real life, the life of the heart, the mind, the soul, by physical conditions which they cannot individually

The race needs every individual and every individual needs the whole race. Separateness means hatred and destructive strife. Unity means love and constructive activity.

SOCIETY IS PREPARED, FOR THE FIRST TIME IN HISTORY, TO SUPPLY THE MATERIAL MEANS FOR A FULL, AMPLE, BROTHERLY LIFE TO EVERY HUMAN BEING—PROVIDED IT WILL PRODUCE AND DISTRIBUTE THESE MEANS COLLECT-IVELY

Eliminate private ownership of the means of production and distribution; secure to each worker the full product of his labor and material want will disappear like the night before the rising sun. Then, and not until then, will brotherhood become a reality.

The Proletarian

BY PRIEDRICH ENGILS

"Far more demoralizing than even poverty in its influence upon the workingman, is the insecurity of his position, the ne-essity of living upon wages from hand to mouth, that in short which makes a proletarian of him.

'The smaller peacants are usually poor and often suffer want, but they are less at the mercy of accident; they have at least something secure. The proletarian, who has nothing but his two hands, who consumes today what he carned yesterday, who is subject to every possible chance, and has not the slightest guarantee for being able to earn the barest necessities of life, whom every crisis, every whim of his employer may deprive of bread, this proletarian is placed in the most revolting, inhuman position conceivable for a human being.

"The slave is assured of a bare livelihood by the self-interest of his master, the serf has at least a scrap of land on which to live; each has, at worst, a guarantee for life itself. But the proletarian must depend upon himself alone, and is yet prevented from so applying his abilities at to be able to rely upon them.

"Everything that the proletarian can do to improve his position is but a drop in the ocean compared with the floods of varying chances to which he is exposed, over which he has not the slightest control. He is the passive subject of all possible combinations, of circumstances, and must count himself fortunate when he has saved his life even for a short time; and his character and way of living are naturally shaped by these conditions.

"Either he seeks to keep his head above water in this whiripool, to rescue his manhood. AND THIS HE CAN DO SOLELY IN REBELLION AGAINST THE CLASS WHIGH PLUNDERS HIM and then abandons him to his fate, which strives to hold him in this position so demoralizing to a human being; or he gives up the struggle against his fate as hopeless, and strives to profit, so far as he can, by the most favorable moment.

"To save is unavailing, for at the utmost he cannot save more than suffices to sustain life for a short time, while if he

"The bourgeosie is violently scandalized at the extravagant living of the workers when the wages are high; yet it is not only very natural but very sensible of them to enjoy life when they can, instead of laying up treasures which are of no lasting use to them, and which in the end moth and rust (that is, the bourgeoisie) get possession of."—From "Condition of the Working Class in England in 1844," three years before Engels and Mark together wrote the "Communist Manifesto."

Communist Manifesto.' The Demurrage Bill

BY J. A. PROUT This is the season of the year when people are thinking of getting in their winter's supply of coal (the great majority can only THINK about it).

The price of coal is so high that hardship and suffering are caused to great numbers of toilers and poor people.

Let us look into the cause, or one of the causes, of cost and difficulty in getting coal. One or more cars of coal are consigned to the local retail coal dealer from the mines. The cars should reach consignee in a given reasonable time. The dealer gets his yard, tracks, sheds and men ready to unload the cars upon arrival. The railroad fails to deliver on time. The men who were ready to unload the cars lose their time or the price is added to cost of coal.

Sometime after the cars are brought into the yard and the dealer is charged demurrage of $1.00 per car per day for detention after twenty-four hours. Dealers have told me that the amount of demurrage collected is considerable and, of course, is added to the price of coal, the consumer paying it.

A reciprocal demurrage bill was presented to the Illinois legis-lature last session, making the railroads liable in case they failed to deliver cars on time. Such a law would be eminently fair and should Theology sends men to an eternal heaven or hell, denying brotherhood.

Statescraft is based upon a ruling and a serving class. Industry has its capitalists and its wage deliver cars on time. Such a law would be eminently fair and shoul workers, its bosses and its hands. The field of commerce is littered with the wrecks of bankrupts, with Now, what is this legislative body? It is a body into whose hands is given a monopoly of making laws.

From whence do they derive their power? From the people who elect or hire them for certain lengths of time.

Where do these legislators meet to make the laws? At Springfield. How do they reach there? Over the railroads. How does the coal reach its destination? Over these same railroads. Is there any relation between our hired servants and the railroads? The Daily News, in reporting the legislative bribery case, said there were 250 cancelled passes from the Illinois Central railroad brought into the state's attorney's office which had been used by members of the legislature.

Telephones in this office were busy all day conveying requests from legislators that their names be not divulged. It is said that nearly every member of the legislature used a pass.

Had the courts compelled other railroads to show their relation with the people's servants, the same proportion of cancelled passes would have been shown. Every pass issued from the railroads to our professed representatives is a bribe for special privilege and doubtless many thousands of dollars found their way to the "jackpot" from this same railroad to keep the bill, which would be beneficial to the people, from becoming a law.

The greater part of the last session of the state legislature was taken up with electing a senator to the national congress and our representatives were too intent upon getting their share of the "jackpot" to attend to any wants of the people.

We should refuse any longer to return to our legislatures such unworthy servants as are willing to receive bribes in the shape of passes, and who refuse to even present bills beneficial to the public.

A few years ago two Socialists were elected to the Illinois legislature. The railroad sent to them complimentary passes which were immediately returned because they wished to be untrammeled in their duty in behalf of the people. When the Socialists are in control, as the old party grafters are today, of course, they will take over both coal and railroads and deliver to the people, at cost of production, their own coal over their own railorads.
