> "The goods meanwhile pile up and wages go down because so many are out of work, and finally there comes a strike. Some other fellows who can't always help it, as he has to live, comes in from the outside and tries to fill your place. There is trouble between the strikers and the newcomer, and then the judge issues a blanket injunction; perhaps the militia is called out and then the capitalist class breaks the law to keep itself in power. The democratic party says that we want no government by injunction, but by arbitration, but these are the same in the end, as the boards of arbitration serve only to set in motion the law to protect the interests of capital." Roosevelt next received a little attention for having called out the militia at the time of the Croton dam strikers, and at the end of his account of the governor's course the speaker summarized the development of affairs as "one class against an-other class seeking to gain power."

"What do we propose to do to stop it—to stop the trust? No, no! Rather organize your industries into one im-mense trust, in which every man shall be a stockholder and from which every man shall draw a share of product." The close of his speech Mr. Harriman The close of his speech Mr. Harriman devoted to an oft-repeated argument against a perfected Socialist condition. Said he: "Men say that this state of equalization would destroy all your ambition. Would it destroy your ambition. Would it destroy your ambition to have all of your product instead of only part of it? I tell you, men, your morals, your intellect, your general condition, comes alike from

The wheat does not develop off the weeds and stones, but through Harriman next devoted several minutes to establishing an elaborate parallel concerning labor conditions, developing and elaborating his premise and not giving forth his simile till the last, when the idea was received with an when the idea was received with appreciative applause. He started in on this comparison by speaking of prisons, interjecting sarcastically, 'Perhaps you don't have them in this old Bay state, the Hub of the universe, this contra of learning'. Starting in pipped and dies We in California takes Bay state, the Hub of the universe, this centre of learning." Starting in again, he said: "About prisoners and prisons. We have them in California, is nourished by the summer's sun and there we said the believe of the prison. and there we sell the labor of the prisoner for 50 cents a day to au outside contractor. There is a shop, say a shoe shop, in the prison, and the contractor pays 50 cents for the day's work of the prisoner, agreeing at the same time to feed him and be responsible for his safety. We will suppose the same time to feed him and be responsible for his safety. We will suppose the same time to feed him and be responsible for his safety. But when men gather the full cast. NOTICE.

Communications for the Haverhill Social Democrat should be addressed to the Gilman Block, Haverhill, Mass., instead of 25 Washington street, as

The editor returned to the city on Tuesday morning after a week's vacation and found that his sanctum had been removed in his absence from 25 Washington street to the new labor headquarters in the Gliman block. The change is a great deal for the better, but a week's absence from the office, coupled with the change in office location, have caused a little confusion and it will require a few days' time to get matters straightened out. Meanwhile we crave our readers indulgence and ask that they overlook any additional defects that may appear in the paper this week. There is, at any rate, a refreshing absence of edisastic clares in so many words that corporations have more rights in the streets than the people, and especially if they happen to be workers they must be completely muscled.

Fine state of affairs!

Could a Russian car display more autocracy or tyranny?

are all good socialists and strong, ca-pable men. From reports we should judge they stand a fair show to be elected and they will be if hard work and persistent enthusiasm on the part of the Brockton social democrats can do it.

Both the republican and democratic national committees are complaining of a lack of contributions to the campaign funds. As the contributions come from the capitalist leass, this scarcity is pretty strong evidence that the capitalists feel secure no matter whether McKinley or Bryan is elected.

The capitalists will never complain so long as the workingmen confinue to throw their votes away upon the capitalists' candidates.

There can be no better way to advertise the Social Democratic national candidates than by wearing a Debs and Harriman button. Buy one, wear one and help along the cause.

Don't forget to tell your friends that our ticket goes on the ballot in this state under the name, "Democratic Social, Nom. papers." This tip- is for speakers especially.

According to the Coast Seamen's Journal, "American seamen are no better than slaves under the law."

HO IS RESPONSIBLE?

The striking electric linemen of Bal-imore have been injunctioned by Inited States Judge Goff.

Stripped of its legal verbiage, the re-straining goes another step in advance of similar decisions in the past.

The injunction prohibits the strikers from speaking to scabs while at work on the public highway during the trouble, even though no violence or threat or intimidation of any kind is intended. A striker has the right, according to this judge, to request other men to quit work "under proper circumstances and at proper times, but not under all cir-cumstances and at all times," which neans, of course, in times of strikes.

Furthermore, this eminent jurist de-after examining laws and precedents bearing on the subjects, will declare that Judgt Goff does not go beyond his authority. Who, then, is responsible for this latest outrage? The man with the hoe—and a vote. There is little satisfaction in finding fault with legislatures and courts when laborers de-liberately vote themselves into condi-tions of slavery—Cleveland Citizen.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

Within the past few weeks there have gone out from the schools and colleges of this country a great array of intiligent young men and women. They are willing and anxious to do their share of the world's work. They stand ready to apply the powers of brain and that they possess to the creation of wealth. But unless they are so it fortunate as to be in some way connected with a portion of the capitalistic class they can find no opportunity to class they can find no opportunity to the state campaign and that the existing state committees be inscruded to the capitalistic class they can find no opportunity to the state campaign and that the existing state committees be inscruded to the capitalistic class they can find no opportunity to observe the joint committee.

Wheras, National organic union of Socialists is imperative and desirable, The Brockton Enterprise says "it is a tribute to Mayor Coulter to say it is generally admitted that it will take a good man to beat him for re-election," which is a very encouraging admission for the Enterprise to make.

The comrades nominated for representatives from the Brockton districts are all good socialists and strong, capable men. From reports we should judge they stand a fair show to be elected and they will be if hard work and persistent enthusiasm on the part of the Brockton social democrats can do it.

Both the republican and democratic national committees are complaining of a lack of contributions to the campaign funds. As the contributions come from the capitalist leass, this scarcity is pretty strong evidence that the capitalists feel secure no matter whether McKinley or Bryan is elected.

The Gasette favors the burial reform movement as one in the interest of the wage worker. It would be more seemly if our contemporary concerned itself with the workers' interests while they are alive.

Bresci, the poor fanatic who killed in the bings which they need in order to produce wealth or to make themselves useful to society or to even secure an existence, are the property of a class, to whom they must sell themselves if they would live. More than these will find that the opportunities for such self-enslavement are regrly srowing fewer and the conditions of a college education was a guarantee of a good position, but every fear the number of those possessing such an education grows greater while the number of places to be filled grows smaller. With the contraction of industry but few educated workers are needed. Then the stern law of wages ones, in the great factories for $1.25 a day. Socialists is imperative and desirable, therefore be it

Resolved, That the delegates of the S. L. P. and S. D. P., in joint convention assembled, recommend to the executive committees at Springfield, Mass., and Chicago, Ill., that at the close of the national campaign the said national executive committees proceed to arrange for and call a national convention to perfect national organic union."

at the close of the public meeting a procession was formed three blocks long, which marched down Clark street to Washington, then to Fifth street to Washington, then to Fifth avenue and up Madison street to State, loudly hurrahing for Socialism, the Social Democratic party and Debs and Harriman. There were fully three hundred in the column, preceded by a banner inscribed "Socialist Unity—One Ticket." All the capitalist newspaper offices were visited and the compared as a teach of them rent the air with loud hurrahs for the Social revolution. The campaign cry was given with a heartiness that serves to convince the people in the streets of the earnestness of Social Democrats. This is the cry:

THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIALIST REVIEW FOR SEPTEMBER.

The September number of the International Socialist Review promises to be the strongest number of a periodical relating to Socialism yet issued in the English language. Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist nominee for president, will have a strong and intersting article on the Outlook for Socialism in the United States, reviewing and discuss-United States, reviewing and discussing the movements in American society ing the movements in American society that are making for Socialism. Job Harriman, the vice-presidential candidate, will supplement this with A Comparison of the Democratic and Republican Platforms in the Present Campaign, which is the most thorough discussion of the issues presented by the two old rollitical parties yet put the two old political parties yet put out. These two articles alone would make this number the most valuable propaganda pamphlet ever issued for the price, yet they are but a small part of what thewhole number contains. Rev. Charles H. Vail is one of the ablest exponents of Socialism writing in the English language at the pres-ent time. Under the title, The Politi-cal and Economic Aspect of the Trust Question, he gives what will be found one of the most popular and thorough expositions of the socialist philosophy regarding trusts ever yet issued.

Robert Rives La Monte has come to be known, both by his translations and his original writings as one of the ablest writers on the principles of Marxian Socialism in America. He will have an article in the September number of the International Socialist Review on The Essentials of Scientific Socialism.

It will thus be seen that these four articles answer the following ques-tions: What is Socialism? What do the Socialists have to say about the trusts? What is the attitude of the Socialist party to the other political parties? What are the present prosparties? pects of Socailism? Never before has it been possible to hand a single pamphlet to a questioner that would settle all his difficulties at once.

Miss Charlotte Teller, who spent a eral weeks at the home of Wilhilm Liebknecht a year ago, will review the life and work of the great Socialist, knecht during the London exile taken from a work of Diebknecht's hitherto unknown to the English readers.
Dr. Alessandro Schian will also have an article on Socialists and Anarchists in Italy. In addition to all this there will be the trade union department, edited by Max Hayes, which will give all the news of the labor movement in the economic field. The regular edi-torial departments will treat the topics of the day from the Socialist point of view, and we have also been prom-ised articlesfrom some of our foreign correspondents.

All these features taken together will make the September number of the Review something that every Socialist will not only want to read himself, but WASHINGTON will want to put into the hands of as STREET many non-Socialists as possible. The CORNER October and November numbers will be equally as good, for we are making a special effort to produce good "So-cialist making" material in these three campaign issues.

The publishers are making a special campaign offer of the Revie for Sep-tember, October and November to eight different addresses for one dollar. Any less number will be charged at 25 cents, but any one who has sent in eight names may send as many more as he wishes at 12 1-2 cents each. This offer does not apply to addresses with-in the city of Chicago, nor to any foreign countries except Canada and Mexico. Send orders to Chas. H. Kerr & Co., 56 Fifth avenue, Chicago, Ills.

NOTES

Comrade Simonton's meetings in Knox county have been well attended and very successful. On Sept. 1 he opens the campaign in his own district with a speech at Yarmouth.

Aug. 14 the Socialists of Showhegan held their first big rally in Grange hall The meeting was addressed by Chas. L. Fox, chairman of the Socialist State committee. In attendance and attention the rally was a decided success. If present indications went for any-thin the working people of Mashion are about to twist the tail of the capitalist parties in that burg.
Comrade Talbot has been engaged to speak in Starks at an early date.

The farmers of South Warren turned out en masse last Saturday evening to hear A. L. Carlton, candidate for congress in the second district, and John F. Carey, candidate for judge of probate on Knox county ticket. The speakers held the closest attention for over two hours and at the close of the all three. meeting several prominent farmers declared their intentions of voting the Socialist ticket. Rallies to be addressed by these speakers have been arranged for throughout the county: Comrades read the article at the head of this column and then take steps to organize a branch of the Sosteps to organize a branch of the So-cialist party in your town. Every Socialist in Maine should enroll under the State organization. N. W. Lermand, Sec. State Commit-tee, Thomaston, Me., Aug. 25.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION OF HAV-ERHILL MOVES INTO THE GILMAN BLOCK.

The new headquarters of the Central Labor Union of Haverhill are large, handsome and commodious.

It is probable that few cities in New England have such a building in which the tradeal unions can transact their business and conduct their affairs. The building covers a complete block, is three stories high, each floor being provided with suitable accomodations for all the unions. On the ground-floor are the offices of the business agent and secretary, the meeting hall of the stitchers union and four other rooms for union and committee meetings. On the second floor are the business and editorial rooms of the Haverhill Social Democrat, a sitting room and a meeting noom, a large sitting room and a meeting noom, a large sitting room and a meeting room for the trades unionists. A large hall takes up the entire top floor which will be used for mass meetings, railles, concerts, balls and other special occasions. The hall is the second largest in the city and is sure to be popular. The sanitary arrangements are complete and every accomodation is provided to make the heaquarters a splendid home for the labor organizations of Haverhill. When the final louches are put upon the builing, the headquarters will be formally opened by the Central Labor transactions and production is provided to make the heaquarters are complete and every accomodation is provided to make the heaquarters a splendid home for the labor organizations of Haverhill. CONVENTION NOTICE

Conventions for the purpose of nominsting Social Democratic candidates for representatives to the Great and General Court from the third, fourth fifth and ninth Essex districts, will be held at labor headquarters, Gilman block, on Monday evening, Sept. 10. All Bocial Democrats, residents and

Monday, Sept. 10.

The Brothers Byrne, who appear on Thursday evening, Sept. 13, are famous When the final touches are put upon the builing, the headquarters will be formally opened by the Central Labor Union and the day set apart for that purpose will be a gala one for the workers of the city. The change into such headquarters is a testimonial in itself to the zeal and energy of Agent Donovan, Secretary MacDougall and all the officers and members of the C. L. U., both of past and present, who have labored to put the trades unions of the city in their present progressive and impregnable position.

The Brothers Byrne, who appear on Thursday evening, Sept. 13, are famous the world over as originators and producers and are today the representative pantomimic performers of this country. Their prouction of "Eight Bells" the past eight years has been one of the big money makers and their annual appearance has always been hailed with joy by ou amusement loving people. This season they are present and impregnable position.

ON THE COMING CAMPAIGN.

With McKinley standing for the rough-riding exploiter of magnificent proportions, and Bryan for the middle proportions, and Bryan for the middle class, and smaller exploiter of a past era, and the stads playing, the fire-works exploding, and the fire water flowing, a most excellent opportunity to test the sincerity and intelligence of the working class. It remains to be seen whether the whoop of a rough rider or the hysterical shriek of a "trust smasher" will have more weight with the wage slave than the cold, mathematical proposition that with his vote he can secure the 83 cents that the other fellow takes out of every dollar he earns. If it does of every dollar he earns. If it does it will be because of the fear of over prosperity. That is the stumbling block in the way of too many workingmen. They fear that if they were to receive the full value of their labor to receive the full value of their labor they would not know what to do with jt; they wouldn't put it in the bank for fear it would "bust," so they let the one with brains keep 83 cents out of every dollar, which leaves just enough to keep them alive and relieves them of all worry. They do not realize that under Socialism production will be for use and hot for profit; that, therefore, there will be profit: that, therefore, there will be no "over production" and consequently no cause for worry over "surplus." profit; Public Ownership.
