SENATOR LORIMER SCORES ENEMIES IN BITTER SPEECH

Uses Biting Sarcasm in Excoriation of Roosevelt.

DENOUNCES TAFT

Says President Planned an Attack on Him in Dark.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—In an impassioned speech that lasted more than five hours in the Senate today, William Lorimer continued his remarkable defense of his title to a seat in that body. His effort today was more dramatic even than his speech of yesterday.

He thundered and stamped up and down the center aisle of the Senate chamber, denouncing his enemies, challenging others, and all the time giving an example of self-possession and courage which commanded respect, however the merits of the case were viewed. Lorimer ended the day again exhausted from his effort, and a recess was taken until 10 o'clock tomorrow to allow him to conclude. Then the vote will be had.

The Senator began today by a denunciation of President Taft, and closed with a savage attack on Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, who wrote the minority report, declaring that Lorimer's title to his seat was obtained through corrupt methods and practices.

The heat in the Senate chamber was intense, but this did not deter the orator. Scores of the spectators sought their lunches in preparation for a long stay. Lorimer, who is fighting against the advice of his physicians, appeared worn and tired, but his voice was fresh and strong. When he took the floor only about a dozen Senators were present, but the leaders scurried around and crowded a quorum within a few minutes.

Frequently Lorimer's voice broke with apparent pathos, or rasped as he shouted his diatribes upon his enemies. Often he turned and shook his fist at the auditors, including many Representatives and government officials.

Hands T. R. a Hot One.

"I was discussing the attitude of the custodian of all the morals in the country, public and private," said Lorimer in beginning his speech. He referred to Roosevelt. He would not accept any money from the malefactors of great wealth.

"Notice, however, that $1,900,000 was contributed to the campaign of 1904. Of course, that came from the common people, of whom he is the champion. None of it came from the men or malefactors of great wealth."

The Senator declared that President Taft had planned an attack on him in the dark. He quoted President Taft's letter to Colonel Roosevelt on the Lorimer case, and directed attention to the fact that on the day when the letter was written and the President expressed the hope that the fight against Lorimer might be won, he could not have read the record of testimony taken in the case.

The printed copies were not delivered to the Senate document room until the day after the letter was written.

Quoting from the President's letter to Colonel Roosevelt the words, "I want to win, so do you," the Illinois Senator stormed up the Senate aisle, repeating them again and finally flung his hat.

"Win? Win what?" he cried. "Win a contest? Was it in the open, with a free field, a fair fight and no favor shown the President hand to Lorimer a sword and a shield with warning that Lorimer should defend himself? No," he shouted, "they were to sneak behind him like a thief in the dark of the night and strike him on the back of the head with a club and knock out his brains."

Chicago Publishers.

Senator Lorimer added that President Taft had fallen among the conspirators. Among these conspirators he named William J. Bryan, Theodore Roosevelt and certain Chicago newspaper publishers who he said were the most corrupt set of newspaper publishers in the country, capable of committing any act to aid the destruction of the man they were bent out to destroy even to the taking of his life.

He referred to Herman H. Kohlsaat, Chicago publisher, as a "holier-than-thou Pharisee," and said that his purpose in reopening his case was because they expected to produce new evidence, but because of the personal of the Senate had and the case would be tried

UTICA SOCIALISTS DENOUNCE JUDGE

UTICA, N. Y., July 12.—The action of Supreme Court Justice De Angelis in granting an injunction restraining striking members of the local Iron Molders' Union from interfering with the property of employers of the Utica Heater Company brought down upon the head of the jurist today the condemnation of Utica Socialists and a threat to seek his impeachment on the ground that he is the tool of corporations. The Socialists, at a largely attended meeting, adopted a set of bitter resolutions aimed at Justice De Angelis, of which the following is a part.

"Resolved, That we ask the labor unions of Utica to investigate the record of said justice with a view of instituting impeachment proceedings against him on account of his continued servility to corporations as plainly shown in every damage suit which he has ever heard, together with this late and flagrant violation of his oath to uphold the constitution."

The strike of the local molders has been in progress two weeks, and there have been many desperate encounters between the idle workmen and scabs.

LEGIEH HINTS AT THE NEW UNIONISM

Carl Legien, international trade union official and Socialist member of the German Reichstag, delivered an address last night before the Central Federated Union in the Labor Temple.

Legien declared that he had found in his travels through this country a highly concentrated form of capital which is compelling a concentrated form of labor organization. The existing German union urged the unity of the workers, not only on the industrial but on the political field, and pointed out the necessity of sending class-conscious representatives to the legislative bodies of this country as the workers have done and are doing in Germany.

Referring to the political activities of the German working class Legien said the Social Democratic party, and in the majority of cases would not think of doing otherwise.

German labor leaders, said Legien, are members of the Social Democratic party. He explained that the German workers and the Socialists always work together, recognizing their interdependence.

About four and one-half million Socialist votes were cast in the last German elections, said Legien, and about six-four million marks was contributed to German trade union coffers in 1911.

JERSEY CONSTABLES AFTER BALLOT CROOKS

MAYS LANDING, N. J., July 12.—At the instance of Chief of Police Malcolm B. Woodruff today, a number of constables started out with twenty additional warrants for the arrest of violators of the election laws at the commissioners' election held at Atlantic City last Tuesday.

Already a number of arrests have been made and the accused held for the Grand Jury.

It is stated that Chief Woodruff had fifty or more names of persons who are charged with false registration. In view of the infractions of the election laws, it is said that a special call has been issued for the convening of the Grand Jury next Tuesday, when it is thought the election cases will be speedily taken up.

WORKMEN'S CIRCLE BIG PICNIC BEGINS TODAY

Frank Goodale, the aviator, has been engaged to make a flight both afternoons at the picnic. A big fireworks display will be given in the evenings.

The park is accessible from all parts of the city. From downtown take Barclay or Cortlandt street ferry to Weehawken, from uptown take either 22d or 42d street ferry, then Union or Summit avenue car direct to park. Admission 25 cents.

WONT ATTACK STEEL TRUST.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—A report on the findings of the House Committee appointed to investigate the United States Steel Corporation will probably be presented next week. The report will head that the trust makes twice as much from its products as does even the most favorably situated of its competitors, but will not recommend that action be taken under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

AWFUL WASTE OF GOOD LIQUOR.

Fifty thousand dollars' worth of wine, beer and cordials of every description was poured into the gutters in the lower section of the city yesterday by order of W. W. Farley, State Excise Commissioner, who was here from Albany to see the job well done. Thousands of thirsty persons stood watching the destruction of the liquor, confiscated during the last year because they were found in places not having a State license.

FOUR SAILORS SCALDED.

HAVANA, July 12.—Four sailors were badly scalded today by an explosion in the boiler room of the Cuba, a cruiser recently received from Cramp's shipyard, and in use at present bringing troops back from Santiago now that the political situation is over here.

RUBBER ATROCITIES CONTINUE UNABATED IN PERUVIAN WILDS

British Foreign Office Gets Second Case-ment Report.

NO REFORM IS MADE

Responsibility for Crimes Put Up Strictly to English Capitalists.

LONDON, July 12.—A sensational second chapter in the report of Sir Roger Casement, the British Consul General at Rio Janeiro, who was sent by the British Government to the Amazon to investigate stories of outrages on natives in the rubber district, came out today in the shape of a supplementary report to the Foreign Office which shows that there has practically been a total failure on the part of the Peruvian Government to respond to the demand for a reform of the rubber atrocities in the Putumayo district.

A mass of official correspondence which was also filed completes the story and indicates generally the cordial co-operation of the State Department at Washington with the British Foreign Office to secure a remedy for the abuses.

The second Casement report indicates that Peru not only did nothing, but seemed to have no intention of taking any action. All the measures taken by that government were dilatory and feeble and wholly ineffective.

On revisiting the country in October, 1911, Sir Roger Casement says he found the abuses of which the first diplomatic protests were filed in 1910 still prevailing. He says the crimes of Putumayo, horrible as they are, have their counterparts in other remote regions in the same lawless forest. He found men who were indicated as the worst criminals and who were supposed to be threatened with fugitives from justice, carrying off numbers of captive Indians for sale or as slave labor in other regions.

Rubber Cost 30,000 Lives.

No reforms promised by Peru, according to Sir Roger's report, have been carried out. The civilized methods of the plantation have been abandoned and the old rubber collecting methods resumed. The returns show that the 1,200 tons of rubber collected in twelve years produced from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000 and entailed the death of 30,000 Indians, whose bones are scattered through the forests and have made places resemble battle fields.

The responsibility for this, according to Sir Roger, is strictly British, as the whole output of the region is placed on the English market and conveyed from Iquitos in British bottoms. Some employers are British subjects, and the commercial future of the district is dependent on British capital.

The correspondence shows that the remonstrances with Peru began in January, 1910. Then Sir Roger Casement presented a preliminary memorandum to the Foreign Office denouncing the atrocities in the strongest language and giving a list of offenders and specific crimes.

On January 16, 1911, Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Minister, sent a telegram to Lima demanding reforms under penalty of exposing the atrocities to the world. Peru was dilatory in replying and then appointed a commission of investigation.

Next an urgent demand was made for the arrest of criminals who were prominent in Iquitos lest they should escape. This demand was repeated frequently. The Peruvian Government replied weakly that the guilty employees had been dismissed from the service of the company. Later on, Peru stated that Brazil had refused to extradite some of the guilty parties, who had fled to that country.

Peru Pushed a Bit Harder.

In July, Sir Edward Grey, after soliciting the co-operation of the United States, pressed Peru harder not only to punish the criminals, but to enact legislation making slavery a criminal offense. The President of Peru was reminded of his treaty obligations to Great Britain and was also urged to establish a religious mission in Putumayo district, with headquarters in Iquitos with government backing and a substantial subsidy.

Just about this time the United States stepped in and brought pressure to bear on Peru. On June 25, 1911, Dr. Parades, the head of the Peruvian Investigation Commission, confirmed all the atrocity stories. Two hundred and fifteen arrest warrants were issued, but there were only four arrests. All the others had naturally expired the six months' delay to vanish.

On July 26 the British Minister at Lima reported that an honest judge at Lima had been deposed in favor of "a more convenient man" and that the chief prisoner had been allowed to escape. So the protests and delays go on in the correspondence to the end of 1911. Sir Roger Casement in the meantime reporting continued abominations as indicated above.

The United States at this period was actively urging Peru to realize the reforms. Strong representations made in February, 1912, met with general professions of good intentions by the President of Peru, but the government of that country sought new delay by appointing a

CAMPAIGN PROBERS AFTER ROOSEVELT

If So He Will Be Asked to Explain Harriman's Contribution of $260,000 in 1904.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The inquiry into campaign contributions undertaken by the Senate committee is going to be much more thorough and far reaching than was at first anticipated.

The committee has determined to call as witnesses August Belmont, of New York, William F. Sheehan, and others connected with the handling of the Democratic campaign fund in 1904. Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, who was chairman of the Democratic National Committee that year, testified that Belmont handled some of the funds in that fight. Belmont has been credited with great activity in financing that campaign. William F. Sheehan was chairman of the Executive Committee.

But the Senate Committee will not confine its efforts to worming out the information in regard to Democratic contributions. It was learned tonight that there is a possibility that Roosevelt himself may be invited to appear before the committee.

Apparently there would be sufficient ground for extending this invitation. George B. Cortelyou, in his testimony yesterday, said he knew nothing whatever about the contribution of $260,000 by E. H. Harriman and his associates in 1904. The contributing for this contribution has shown in the Harriman correspondence was direct with Roosevelt, and the investigating committee will insist that Roosevelt ought to have an opportunity to explain this big gift once and for all.

On July 14, 1789, in the city of Paris, the enraged populace rose in their might and demolished the Bastille. This old castle had stood for years and was used as a State prison, and converted to the purpose of confining men for life who happened to incur the smallest resentment or jealousy of the French monarchs. With the destruction of this castle began the fury of the French Revolution.

Revolutionists of the 1776 and 1912 order will rally tomorrow in force to the Manhattan Casino, 145th street and Eighth avenue. The doors will open at 1 p.m. and remain open until midnight. Everything that an able committee could do to make things interesting and comfortable has been done.

Besides the tug of war between East and West sides, and teams of women, a race between a team of married and single men will also be held.

The bowling alleys will be open all day and three prizes are to be given. The highest score will be awarded $5. The Casino is capable of holding a large crowd, and the adjoining grounds for the thousands who prefer the open air are big enough to hold an army. There is plenty of shelter in case it rains and the cool summer garden will be pleasant should the weather be hot.

Good music and dancing will continue through the day. Refreshments at popular prices can be secured on the grounds. Entertainment speakers are to address the gathering, and the fall of the Bastille is not to be forgotten.

This is local New York's last picnic of the season. The rainy Sunday a month ago hit the Socialist party treasury hard in this city a bad blow, and it is hoped that tomorrow's gala affair will swell the campaign fund for this Presidential year.

Tickets are selling now for 10 cents and can be bought at the rate below: For a man and wife, 20 cents; for a man and child, 15 cents; for a woman and child, 10 cents.

SAYS HANFORD WAS BACKED BY A RING OF WHITE SLAVERS

Reporter Testifies Judge Gave Information for Story.

HIS SPECIAL DRINKS

Witness Won Bets That Bartenders Would Serve Cadi's Brand.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 12.—A letter written by Federal Judge Cornelius H. Hanford to Paul S. Hogan, of Mount Vernon, Wash., dated October 20, 1906, in which he made the statement that he would not appoint a certain Weppeler United States Commissioner if he was a supporter of the platform adopted at the Democratic national convention in 1896 at Chicago, was made the subject of inquiry this afternoon by the House Judiciary Subcommittee, which was instituted as a result of charges brought against Hanford by Victor L. Berger, Socialist Representative from Wisconsin. Chairman James M. Graham and Congressman Walter I. McCoy, the two Democratic members of the investigating committee, were apparently very much interested in Judge Hanford's views in this respect and repeatedly asked Attorney William H. Gorham, who until a week ago, was president of the Seattle Bar Association, whether he believed such views evidence of Judge Hanford possessing a "judicial temperament."

"I do not usually inquire about the politics of the persons recommended for appointment as commissioner," Judge Hanford had written, "but loyalty and belief that the national government may rightfully exercise its lawful authority in all places are qualifications for the office."

"I believe that Judge Hanford was actuated by sincere motives," replied Gorham. "He is a man of intense patriotism and intensely sincere. I don't, however, believe that this letter shows prejudicial temperament or shows the lack of it."

"What do you mean by patriotism?" interrupted Chairman Graham. "Do you believe that a man who differs with you as to political beliefs should not be appointed to office?"

"I do not. But I believe that a man who sincerely believes that certain political beliefs are inimical to the welfare of the country may be of the opinion that a man holding such beliefs should not be appointed to office."

"The effect of such a rule would be to disqualify 5,000,000 citizens of the United States, would it not?" demanded Chairman Graham.

"No, I don't think so because I do not believe that all of the people who voted for Mr. Bryan in that year subscribed to that platform," retorted Attorney Gorham. "I myself voted for him."

"Well, then, would the other 5,999,999 disqualify?" asked the chairman.

George M. Jacobs, a real estate man, who several days ago testified to having seen Judge Hanford intoxicated on several occasions, told the committee of a remarkable bet which he had made with W. S. Kerrigan, another real estate broker.

Bartenders Knew Judge's Favorite.

Jacobs testified that he had named nine prominent bars in the City of Seattle and had told Kerrigan that he could pick out as many from these as he wanted to. That he then would prove to him that the bartenders knew what particular drink was a favorite of the Judge.

"I will call for Judge Hanford's favorite," said Jacobs. His sporting proposition to Kerrigan had been: "And if the bartender places before me a Martini with an olive in it, you pay for the drink, and if it is a stuffed olive, I will pay."

On their way to the rathskeller, which had been chosen by Kerrigan, the two men picked up several friends who joined in on the proposition, the witness informed the committee.

"Well, what was in the Martini placed before him?" asked Commissioner McCoy.

"Kerrigan paid for the drinks," said Jacobs.

"Was that the only bet you went to?" questioned Commissioner McCoy.

"They quit after the first one," the witness said. "I would have easily gone to all of them. I even bet $500 if they did not like Martini I would suggest that they would not."

COAT OF MAIL SAVES LIFE OF FISH DEALER

Benjamin Rubis, a wholesale fish dealer, of 64 Ames street, East New York, while being driven along Powell street, near Central avenue, yesterday was thrice fired at by a man who was lurking in a hallway. All three bullets found their mark, but only denied Rubis' armor of thick aluminum, which he bought when his life was threatened some time ago.

Shooting to his chauffeur to stop, Rubis leaped out the auto and made after the assassin. He chased him into the hands of Detective Walsh, and when he came up he used his fists on the fugitive.

The police have been looking for Kolodny for a year. They say that twelve months ago he shot a man named Abe Lewis. Lewis is still in a hospital.

Kolodny was held for further examination on July 16.

When business enemies poisoned six of Rubis' horses he bought the auto in which he was riding when shot at.

ARREST EXPECTED IN CONNORS CASE

Detectives Declare They Will Have Murderer of Little Bronx Girl Before Tonight.

Detectives who have been active in the hunt for the man who tortured 12-year-old Julia Connors to death said late last night that they have struck the trail of the murderer and that he will be arrested before midnight tonight.

There was a marked change last evening in the attitude of the police. After six days of running around in a circle and of apparently aimless meanderings after tenuous clues, the big staff of detectives suddenly displayed bristling and confidence.

They broke the cordon that has been around the two blocks from 171st to 173rd streets and from Third to Fulton avenues and scattered by order of Capt. Sam Price, going by two and three to run down bits of information that appeared to Price to have a bearing on a new and important clue.

The whole force concentrated in an effort to find a young man named Nathan Swartz, a former jailbird, who lived at 3970 Third avenue, adjoining the house where the blood-stained bath tub was found, and who has been missing since last Sunday.

Young Swartz's family moved hurriedly from their home at 171st street and Third avenue, and placed their furniture in a storage warehouse at Tremont and Park avenues, and disappeared. The detective said last night that they had located the Swartzes, all except Nathan, and that they expected to nab him within a few hours.

MASCAGNI ELOPEMENT STORY CALLED A FAKE

ROME, July 12.—The newspapers this morning announced that Pietro Mascagni had eloped with an actress. The truth is that some days ago Mascagni was a serious quarrel with his wife on account of a chorus girl in one of the largest theaters in Rome who had become fanatically enthusiastic over the musician. Mascagni resented such enthusiasm, especially as the musician used to give the chorus girl lessons rather too frequently. But, according to his friends, Mascagni never dreamed of eloping with the girl. He left for Paris alone.

The newspapers this evening refute the story of the elopement. They say the musician repents of his adventure and trusts in a reconciliation with his wife.

WHOLESALE PRICE OF MILK TAKES BIG JUMP

The wholesale price of milk jumped up three-quarters of a cent yesterday. The supply fell off 40 per cent. That is the news that came from a meeting of the Milk Exchange at 6 Harrison street yesterday afternoon to the large dealers in dairy products in Manhattan and Brooklyn. The rates may mean $20,000 a day more for milk to the people of New York.

It is reported that representatives of 44,000 dairy farms in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Vermont attended the meeting and said that if the farmers were not paid more for milk the supply would be shut off instantly.

The long drought which has played havoc with pasture lands, the increased demand for dairy products in hot weather, and the high price of feed for cattle, are the reasons given by the farmers for more money.

3,200 RECRUITS JOIN RANKS OF STRIKING TRANSPORT WORKERS

Many Steamship and Railroad Lines Are Affected.

PARADE MAKES HIT

Police Arrest Fifty Men Who Refuse to Return to Tasks.

The strike of the transport workers is spreading with remarkable rapidity.

Yesterday was easily the biggest day in its history. The strikers were recruited by more than 3,000 men. The sentiment was expressed by the leaders of the men at their headquarters, 25 West street, by the workers are coming into the battle against the steamship companies faster than they can be organized.

All optimistic statements of the company officials to the contrary, the strikers are now closer to victory than ever before since the commencement of the strike.

Many of the struck piers are closed down. The more recently strikes are piled up with mountains of freight that either cannot be moved or are being handled by strikers who are incompetent.

A large percentage of the strike-breakers are negroes who have been imported from various Southern points. According to several police men on strike duty at the piers yesterday, the negroes are doing scarcely more than loaf on the job and there is more shooting of cross than moving of freight.

New York Central Pier 34, North River and 4th street, about 300; Pennsylvania Railroad Pier 17, North River at 37th street, about 300; New York Central Day Line, North River at 34th street, about 30; West Coast Railroad Piers A, B and C, North River, and Piers 2, 3 and 4, about 1,100; New York Central Piers 7, 12 and 13, North River at 33d street, about 700; Grain Elevator, West Street Railroad, Pier 1, Westhoken, about 350, and at the Manhattan Transfer in Weehawken, Pier 1, about 150.

Approximately 350 men abandoned their posts at pier 34, North River, of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. About fifty checkers left piers 37, 38 and 39 of the Pennsylvania Railroad. These piers were previously abandoned by about 900 longshoremen. The night checkers, it was asserted at union headquarters, would quit directly. They number up the neighborhood of fifty men.

Hoboken Longshoremen Ready.

A delegation representing the longshoremen of the Hamburg, North German Line, of Hoboken, called at union headquarters yesterday, proposing to call over 1,000 men off their posts to join the strikers.

Strike Leader James Vial said yesterday that carpenters and painters whose the Pennsylvania Railroad had ordered to the strike piers to watch over the negro strikers, to prevent them from reaching the piers, had left the job.

When the steamer Westward bound for Ward Line, docked here yesterday, the sailors and crewmen, totaling about a hundred men, abandoned their posts.

The steamer Comet, of the Western Pacific Company, arrived yesterday from New Orleans about four hours late. The steamer Albatross of the Atlas Line, leaving Atlantic City yesterday after a delay of more than eight hours. She had on board less than half her regular crew.

A telegram received at union headquarters last night from the New York Dockers in western New York, reported the crew of the ship, one of the 1,000 to have abandoned their posts.

The members of the Dockers' union, reported, wanted to be paid for the extra work they had done in the past.

PIRATES BEAT DODGERS IN FIRST OF SERIES

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 12.—The Pirates welcomed the Brooklyn Dodgers to the Smoky City this afternoon by taking the first of a four game series at Forbes' Field by the score of 8 to 2.

After nine safeties had been collected off Barger in four innings, he was jerked out of the box to allow Allen a chance to show his flinging powers, only to be replaced by Knepper in the following stanza. All told, Clarke's men managed to get fifteen hits, while the Dodgers could do so to hit safely six times off Hendrix's nine innings of pitching. The score by innings:

Brooklyn 0 1 0 0 0 0 1—2 6 4
Pittsburg 0 0 5 2 0 1 0—8 15 9
Batteries—Barger, Allen, Knepper and Miller; Hendrix and Simon.

HIGHLANDERS WIN!

Warhop's steady pitching, backed up by smart fielding and coupled with a bunching of hits, enabled the Highlanders to take the measure of the St. Louis Browns at American League Park yesterday, score 4 to 1. The Browns, fresh from a victory over the Boston Red Sox, expected to find Wolverton's young men easy pickings, but, wonderful to relate, the Hillmen were up on their toes and played really first class ball.

Warhop was found for nine singles, four of them in the third inning. It was in that period that all of the runs were made. The Browns, with one out, were bristling with ginger when Krichel opened the first half with a clean drive over Dowd's head. There was increased jollity when Hamilton followed with another smack in the same direction, putting Krichel on second.

"Platter it! It's easy!" cried manager Stovall on the coaching lines, and Shotten whizzed another base hit to right field. Krichel legged it for the plate, but Zinn, with a superb throw squarely into Sweeney's hands, got the ball home in time for the second out. Jantzen came along with still another hard base hit to center, and Hamilton scored. Warhop intercepted Maloney's throw to the plate and whipped the ball to Dowd so swiftly that Jantzen was caught trying to stretch his hit to a double. The score:

ROYALS HOLD SHOW TONIGHT

The Royals A. C. will stage three ten-round bouts at the Clermont rink, Brooklyn, tonight, which should furnish enough excitement to satisfy the most exacting fan, and afford a rare night's treat. Harry Stone, who claims to have fought Jack Britton a fifteen round draw, will appear in the main event against Jimmy Paul, a rugged local fighter. The semi-windup will bring together Heine Thiele and Young Kelly, two of the sturdiest and hardest hitting pugilists in Brooklyn.

ROSS ALSO A WHITE HOPE?

Tony Ross, the Newcastle heavy-weight, has come to the front with a statement that is a genuine white hope and is entitled to matches with Fowler, Luther McCarty, Bombardier Wells and other Caucasians who are talking of a fight with Jack Johnson. Ross' ring record includes six-round bouts with Johnson and Kaufman, ten-round bouts with Kaufman, Jack (Twin) Sullivan and Joe Jeannotte and a six-round affair with Sam Langford, in which the Tar Baby put him to sleep. Ross says that he can whip all of the white heavyweights, including Jim Flynn, and is ready to meet a forfeit as soon as one of them expresses a desire to meet him.

ADAMS BEATS HANNA

Billy Adams, the Bronx light-weight, last night repeated his performance of two weeks ago and whipped Tommy Hanna, the Providence R. L. favorite, in the star bout at the Queensborough Athletic Club, Queensborough, L. I., last evening. Adams was aggressive throughout the entire ten rounds and was easily the victor.

CARL MORRIS A "HERO" AGAIN

HAPULPA, Okla., July 12.—Carl Morris ended in a few seconds what was to have been a fifteen-round bout with Con Comiskey, of Chicago, here last night. Morris punched his adversary three times, and with a fourth sent Comiskey to the floor, where he took the count.

GIANTS DIDN'T GET A CHANCE TO BEAT CARDS

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—The Giants had not been here long this morning when the cheerful information was imparted to them that there would be no game today. The news was as welcome as if they had been told that their salaries had stopped. They are somewhat vexed with themselves at having dropped three out of four in Chicago, and are in a mood to take it out of the Cardinals. Besides in hot, sticky weather it is easier to kill time by playing ball than by loafing around a hot hotel.

There was a rainstorm this morning and that is why the game was called off. It wasn't long before the sun was out and it was as hot as ever and the game could have been played had the Cardinals been eager to decide the issue. But the postponement gives a chance for another double-header and there will be two games for the Giants here on Sunday. Ball teams are plucked to death with the prospect of playing three ten-round bouts on the road in midsummer.

BOXING GALORE TONIGHT

Fairmont and St. Nicholas Clubs Therefore Figure on Big Houses.

The Fairmont A. C. and the St. Nicholas A. C. hold their week end show tonight. Both organizations have arranged for many rounds of skirmishing, each one having scheduled three ten-round bouts besides the usual preliminaries.

At the Fairmont, Al McCoy, Brooklyn's lightweight champion, meets Harlem's wild slugger, Young Hicks, in the star attraction. George Cheney, the Baltimore crack, encounters Ty Cobb, of Philadelphia, in another bout, while Danny Ridge and Young Goldie Ghetto, featherweights, mix it up in the other event.

THE GIANTS' WINNING RECORD

Looking over the National League record it will be noticed that the Giants have won forty-two games from the Philadelphia, St. Louis, Brooklyn and Boston teams and fifteen from the Cubs, Pirates and Reds. The Chicago Cubs have scored twenty-four victories over the Quakers, Cardinals, Dodgers and Wardmen, while the Pirates have a record of nineteen victories over the same teams. The Cubs have won nineteen games from the Giants, Pirates and Reds and the Pittsburghs have beaten the Cubs, Giants and Reds the same number of times. The New Yorks have won more games than any other first division combination in the league.

START ARBITRATION SESSIONS MONDAY

Board Selected to Settle Engineers' Fight With Railroads Will Convene at Manhattan Beach.

It was announced yesterday by the Engineers' Wage Arbitration Board that the sessions will open at 11 o'clock Monday forenoon at the Oriental Hotel, at Manhattan Beach, provided accommodations can be obtained. At the organization meeting of the board yesterday Oscar Strauss was elected chairman. The secretary will be selected later.

The dispute to be arbitrated involves the demands of approximately 27,500 engineers of the Eastern railroads presented to the railroads July 12 last. These demands, railroad representatives estimated, would, if granted, cost the railroads $7,500,000 annually, or equivalent to placing on the fifty roads a lien of $188,844,000 of 4 per cent securities which would have preference over first mortgage bonds. For this and other reasons the railroads flatly refused to grant the increases demanded.

The engineers voted to strike and the situation presented a serious outlook when late in April Commissioner of Labor Charles D. Smith and Martin A. Knapp of the Commerce Court, brought the opposing factions together under an agreement for arbitration of the controversy by a board of seven, one member to represent the railroads, one the engineers and five to be "neutral."

The two original members were, if possible, to select the other five, failing in which the selections were to be made by Neil Knapp and Chief Justice White, as arranged for in the articles of agreement. The board as thus selected includes Charles D. Smith, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Employees; P. H. Merrissey, former president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen; for the engineers, Oscar Strauss, one-time Secretary of Commerce and Labor; Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews; Otto Edlitz, former president of the Building Trades Employers Association; Charles H. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin; and Fred N. Judson, of St. Louis.

TRYING TO GET BASE OF W. U. WIRE RATES

Charles Caldwell, a lawyer, will make a new attempt on Monday to learn the basis on which Western Union telegraph rates are fixed. At the adjournment of a hearing yesterday before J. Campbell Thompson, Attorney Caldwell said that he would try to bring President Theodore N. Vail of the Western Union and the auditor of the company into court.

The question before Referee Thompson is a claim of $200 brought by the Western Union company against William X. White, a local produce merchant for telegraph service. It was brought in the City Court and given a reference because of the multitude of separate items involved. At the same time an action for $3,800 is pending in the Supreme Court brought by White against the Western Union for the alleged failure to deliver a telegram sent to an address in Spain, asking for prices on 10,000 crates of onions.

At yesterday's hearing a process server testified that he had tried to serve a subpoena on President Vail, but had been unable to find him.

DEAD EDITOR WORTH $12,000 TO WIDOW

A Sheriff's Jury at Mineola, L. I., yesterday awarded Agnes Jay, whose husband, Wilfred C. Jay, was killed on June 17 last year at Westbury crossing, while on his way to a Meadow Brook polo game, $12,000 against James Bannister.

Mrs. Jay some months ago jointly sued Bannister and the Long Island Railroad Company, but the jury cleared the railroad company, responsibility for the accident being placed on Bannister, who crossed the track in front of an approaching train despite the warning of a flagman. Bannister did not appear, the verdict being awarded by default.

Jay was an editor on Bit and Spur, and was in company with a photographer named Ross. Both were killed. Bannister, a former hackman, was taking the men to the Polo Grounds in his automobile. It was claimed the accident resulted from his losing his head at the railroad crossing.

'LOAN SHARK KING' HELD IN $1,000 BAIL

Jack Brodie, "King of the Loan Sharks," was again held in bail to appear before the Court of Special Sessions in charge of money yesterday. The "King" begged for delay. District Attorney Whitman and District Attorney Brooks, who has the management of the official attack on the loan sharks, would not consent.

Brodie's counsel explained that he would like his case to be heard on the same day as that of his daughter, Helen, the "Queen of the Loan Sharks," who awaits examination on a similar charge.

It was found the District Attorney objects he decided that he didn't want to submit to an examination at all. At the last moment his counsel waived.

Brodie's bail was fixed at $1,000 and was given. He will now go directly to the Court of Special Sessions for trial.

BOY DROWNS AT ROCKAWAY

Edward Kneer, 16 years old, of 1953 Broadway, Brooklyn, was found drowned in the surf at the foot of Oceanus avenue, Rockaway Beach, yesterday. Kneer arrived at Rockaway three days ago to visit James Leddy, at 14 South Thompson avenue. He left his cottage on Thursday, clad to go bathing, and had been missing since.

LEAD OF AMERICAN ATHLETES INCREASES

STOCKHOLM, July 12.—By winning two events and taking two second and two third places in the three track and field events decided today, the American athletes increased their lead over the rest of the world combined, and at the close of the session had a total of 61 points to 51 for all other nations. Little Finland is still safely in second place, adding to her score by taking the discus throw. England is still third, while Sweden retained fourth position and Canada was ahead of Greece to be placed fifth.

America's wins were scored in the running broad jump and the 110-meter hurdle race, and although in the latter event another clean sweep was added to the many previously to the credit of the United States, the real feature of the day's performance was the marvelous winning jump of A. L. Guttererson, the Vermont University man who competes under the colors of the Boston A. A. Guttererson only took one jump, and in this he cleared the astounding distance of 24 feet 11 inches, beating the previous Olympic record by 4 1/2 inches and coming within three-quarters of an inch of the world's record, held by Peter O'Connor of Ireland.

With five of the six contestants in the final of the hurdle race wearing the United States shield a clean sweep was expected, but there was a surprise in the race just the same, for the favorite of the race, John R. Nicholson, of Missouri University, fell at the ninth hurdle. His associates were equal to the occasion and Fred W. Kelly, of the Los Angeles A. C., cleared the tape first, closely followed by James T. Wendall of the New York A. C. and Martin W. Hawkins of the Multnomah A. C. of Portland, Ore. Kelly's time of 15:10 seconds was only the fraction slower than the world record made by Forrest Smithson at the Olympic meet in 1904.

In the discus throwing Finland, that sturdy competitor of the United States, again provided the winner in A. R. Taipale. The Finn was forced to break the Olympic record of 134 feet 2 inches made by Martin Sheridan, but fell short of the figures of 135 feet 1 inch to the credit of Jim Dunbar, a Canadian, winning throw measured 148 feet 14 inches. R. L. Byrd, of Adrian College, Michigan, was second with 138 feet 9 1/2 inches, and Duncan, of New York, was third with 138 feet 8 1/2 inches.

Remarkable times were made by the Yankee runners in qualifying for the 400 meter race, and in the five semi-final heats America supplied the winner in four. That they did not win the fifth was the subject of general disappointment to the American fans, and in some instances led to unpleasant comments on the justice of the ruling that disqualified Donald B. Young, of the Boston A. A., in the fifth heat. The circumstances were somewhat similar to those that started the hullabaloo in the Olympics in Canada when Carpenter, of America, was disqualified for fouling Lieutenant Halswelle, of England.

This time the mixup occurred with the crack German runner, Hans Braun. He and Young were in close company, and after the Bostonian finished in front, Braun protested that he had been interfered with by the American runner. The judges took the side of the German and disqualified Young, which put Braun in first place and allows him to go into the final with the four Americans tomorrow.

The regret of the Americans was genuine, as Young was depended upon to give any man on the team a great race for the Olympic honors. Spectators who watched the race closely did not notice any foul running on the part of Young, and in some instances he was decidedly open to question. Young himself showed a sportsmanlike spirit when told that he was disqualified and refused to comment on the justice of the official decision. The American officials were outspoken, however, in denouncing the action of the judges and stated that there was no reason for disqualifying the Bostonian.

JOURNEMEN TAILORS' UNION 390.

By Thomas Sweeney, Organizer.

On July 15 there will be a mass meeting in New Liberty Hall, Humboldt and Cook streets, Brooklyn, to consider the proposition of presenting bills of prices to all firms on or about September 1 of Boston, Mass.

The meeting is an important one to the tailors, and it remains to be seen how interested the custom tailors are in the future welfare of their craft. Boston is now in the lead with three local unions. New York should not lag behind while the workers of the world are marching onward and upward, cutting off a link of the chain behind them at every step.

The Brooklyn meeting is under the management of A. Carotti and Max Sillinsky. The speakers will be Italian, Jewish and English. Organized Jacobs is on his way to Baltimore to arrange for an Italian and Jewish meeting, at which Brother Carotti and others will speak. The journeymen tailors are introducing a new plan in organization work. They are having good results so far. The demands for organizers is much greater than the supply notwithstanding the fact that the union keeps fifteen organizers on the road.

50,000 ORANGEMEN PARADE IN THE RAIN

BELFAST, July 12.—Fifty thousand Orangemen drenched by a torrential downpour, celebrated the centennial downpour, celebrated the centennial anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne today by their customary march to White Abbey, where Frederick E. Smith, a Unionist leader in the House of Commons, delivered a vigorous anti-Home Rule speech to them. An attempt by 200 youthful Nationalists to tear down an Orange arch led to a sharp conflict. Two policemen were hurt and one arrested was made.

A parade in celebration of the 223d anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne will be participated in this afternoon by several thousand Ulstermen, who will march under the official designation of Orangemen. The committee in charge of the exercises had them postponed from the 13th to the 12th in order that the members of the order might take advantage of a half holiday.

The route of march will be along Seventh avenue from 110th street to Manhattan Casino Park. Several speakers will address the Orangemen on the battles of the revolution of 1688, which resulted in the ascendency of William of Orange to the British throne.

She and another little girl were walking in Mount Morris Park, she said, when Warren came up behind them and said certain improper things. ### Minutes Executive Committee.

A special meeting of the Executive Committee was held at party headquarters, Thursday, July 11. Those present were Wolfman, Uswald, Lindgren, Gold, Hanseman, Pauly, Schwartz, Penner and Hopkins. Wolfman was elected chairman, Uswald, secretary.

Organizer Lindgren reported that owing to the death of his father in Chicago he must leave immediately and would be away for one week. On motion, William Dinger was elected acting organizer.

A letter from William Glanz, organizer of Local Paterson, in response to our request for information, stated that the strike of the weavers had been declared off and gave details as to the management of the funds by the Detroit faction of the I. W. W. The following recommendation was made to the Central Committee: That we write the persons who furnished us subscription lists stating the amount we collected on such lists, also that as the strike is now over, the money would be kept in the treasury of the party until a similar occasion arose for its advantageous use.

Having been informed that several branches intended to schedule their own meetings if the local closes the open air campaign on account of the lack of funds, the Executive Committee passed the following motion: No subdivision will be allowed to conduct any street meetings until the necessary $300 fund is secured and the committee re-opens the outdoor campaign, exception is made, however, to the Claessens series of lectures which have been carefully arranged and extensively advertised.

HARRY URSWALD, Sec. Pro Tem.
QUEENS.

National Referendum B was received and voted upon.
Henry G. Kuhn, James Flynn, James Cullen and Gottl Wenzel were admitted as members of the branch and their applications were referred to the local. G. N. Vail was transferred to our branch from Local Kings. Our delegate to the State convention, Comrade Brendel, gave an interesting report. The organizer reported that there will be two street meetings weekly in Glendale, one at the corner of Myrtle and Corpel Avenues and the other at Myrtle and Yale Avenues.

The election of officers resulted in the following: M. Brendel, organizer; William Kulkmann, recording secretary; Wirthmuller, financial secretary; Fewler, literature agent; Carstena and Roth, editors; Dietrich and Fine, delegates to the Central Committee.
As the street meetings in Glendale have been successful, every comrade should make it his business to appear at the meetings so that they can be continued with success. Good speakers will be on hand. Watch the notices in The Call and the Volkszeitung.
WM. KULKMANN, Sec.

STAGE EMPLOYEES IN ANNUAL CONVENTION
Majority of Old Officials Re-elected at the Peoria, Ill., Meet.

By FRED THOMAS.
(Correspondence to The Call.)
PEORIA, Ill., July 10.—The twentieth annual convention of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees of the United States and Canada was opened here last Monday by General President Charles C. Shay, at 9 a.m., in the Coliseum. Mayor Woodruff and John Irish, president of the Trades Assembly of Peoria, welcomed the delegates.
The Credentials Committee reported that out of 350 locals and 43 branches, 188 locals and 7 branches are represented, with 250 delegates. Local 25, New York, contested the seating of the delegate of Auxiliary 25 for nonpayment of the per capita tax. This matter was referred to a special committee, which recommended that the delegate of No. 35 agree that the bill of $110.75 be paid by September 1, otherwise Auxiliary 25 stands suspended. Delegate agreed and was seated.
The balance of the first and part of the second day was taken up by the reading of a lengthy report of the international president. It took six hours and covered every phase of the year's work in detail. There were many valuable recommendations. The report was given to a special committee with Harold Williams, Local 35, New York, as chairman, to be acted upon.

Other committees appointed are the Auditing Committee, chairman, James Lemke, Local 29, Troy, N. Y.; Credentials Committee, chairman, John Fanning, Local 3, Chicago, Ill.; Committee on Resolutions, chairman, John J. Barry, Local 11, Boston, Mass.; Press Committee, chairman, John S. Skinner, Local 4, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The session of the second day ended at 1:30 p.m., and the balance of the day was given to frolics. The boys of the Peoria local, No. 75, and the T. M. A., No. 44, had done everything in their power to make the stay in their city as agreeable and pleasant as possible, notwithstanding the terrible heat.

Besides several entertainments at the T. M. A. clubroom they had chartered a boat which took the delegates down the Illinois River to Rome, Ill. A ball game was enjoyed there between the East and West, with the latter the winners. A big banquet was given under a huge tent and every delegate was full of praise for the Peoria boys.

The third day began with reading of the general executive's and general secretary's reports. The first mentioned was ordered printed and to be taken up serially; the latter given to the Auditing Committee for report.

At this time a bunch of letters and telegrams were read, most of them coming from business men and corporations, also from the Mayor of Seattle, Wash., begging in one form or the other to hold the 1913 convention in their city. Cleveland, Ohio, and Philadelphia, Pa., were also in the race for the convention. While Philadelphia made a poor showing, it was sure a hot fight between Seattle and Cleveland. Each delegation was trying its best to outdo the other by giving souvenirs and advertising their respective cities as the grandest and best. At the selection Seattle won by a few votes.

The nomination and election of officers took place in the afternoon session which lasted until 7 p.m.
Charles O. Shay, of Local New York, was re-elected general president without opposition as were also the majority of the general vice presidents.

Lee M. Hunt, of Local 2, Chicago, Ill., was re-elected against four opponents as general secretary treasurer. As delegates to the A. F. of L. convention the following were elected:
James Lemke, Local 29, Troy, N. Y.; John Snare, Local 6, St. Louis, Mo.; C. H. Bonn, Local 20, St. Paul, Minn. Adjournment at 7:30 p.m.

Boston Socialists Arrested at Ettore Giovanniotti Protest Meeting Suffer From Police Brutality.
(Special to The Call.)
BOSTON, July 12.—Two of the four prisoners who were arrested after the clash precipitated by police brutality at the dispersing of an Ettore Giovanniotti protest meeting, held under the auspices of the Boston Italian Socialist Club, at Faneuil Hall on July 7th, have been released and the inhuman treatment accorded the prisoners has now come to light.
The released prisoners, Cloburro and Brauseon, who had been sentenced to six months each in the House of Correction, direct attention to the pestilential conditions prevailing at the prison and the brutality of officials and underlings.
The prisoners are put in an underground cell, among the boilers of the basement. The windows at the back are tightly closed and the prisoners suffer terribly from the oppressive heat and the lack of ventilation. When the men behind the bars ask for a cooling drink to alleviate their burning thirst they are given warm, dirty water.
The police take great pleasure in nagging the prisoners by calling them "dagoes," "wops" and "guineas" and other names.
The court, which has plainly shown its leaning toward the Woolen Trust, which is responsible for the incarceration of Ettore and Giovanniotti, wroth at the Socialists who called the meeting, and has forbidden the bailing of the prisoners.

ITALIAN SOCIALISTS FORCE OUT REFORMERS
According to dispatches from Rome appearing in a local Italian evening newspaper yesterday, the annual convention of the Italian Socialist party at Reggio Emilia this week has ended with a thorough house cleaning in the ranks of those who are battling against capitalism in the land of Bruno, Dante, et al.
It appears that the clear-cut revolutionary faction was in absolute control of the convention and forced the adoption of a platform reaffirming the class struggle as the basis of the party's electoral and educational activities, insisting that the Socialist party cannot participate in any capitalist government, declaring that the party cannot tolerate in its ranks those who stood for the government scheme of African conquest, and asserting that the Socialist party will depend only upon its own deputies to battle for the reforms demanded by the proletariat.
The convention also approved the readmission of the Young People's Socialist Federation.
As a result of this stand, Deputes Leonida Bisolati, former editor of the Avanti!; Bonomi, also formerly of the Avanti! staff; Guido Podrecca, editor of L'Asino, and Cebrini, regarded themselves as expelled from the party, and, followed by a number of delegates, bolted the convention and issued a manifesto calling for the formation of a new party to be known as the Italian Socialist Reform party.
The new party's program will be worked out by a committee headed by Deputy Canepa, editor of Il Lavoro, of Genova, and in the meantime the bolting Socialist Deputies will resign from the Chamber, and ask their constituents to re-elect them as a sign of confidence in their ideas.
In order to finance the seceding faction a subscription list has been opened and Cicotti, Rossetti, Bisolati, Vercesi, Massoni, Bonomi, Cebrini, Pignatari and Bidolla have each donated $200 already.

DEBS RUNS SECOND IN THE SMOKY CITY
Eugene V. Debs is likely to run second in Pittsburg, Pa., at the coming election if a statement made by Publisher A. F. Moore, of the Pittsburg Leader, at Oyster Bay yesterday be taken as a criterion.
Moore, at Colonel Roosevelt's suggestion, displayed to the newspaper men some figures he had gathered on a straw vote taken in the mill district of Pittsburg.
"The men who voted," said Moore, "were laborers and not frequenters of the Democratic Club, and this is how they stood: 2,762 for Roosevelt, 221 for the Socialist candidate, 936 for Wilson and 362 for Taft. I made a wager of $500 yesterday that Taft would get fourth place in the elections in Pennsylvania."

ELECTRICAL WORKERS KICK
ALBANY, July 11.—Electrical workers writing the Capitol have complained that they are compelled to work more than eight hours a day. John Williams, the State Committee member of Labor, has ordered an investigation and says he will take immediate action. The contract is held by the Tucker Electrical Construction Company, of New York, which will lose the work if the complaint holds good.
