STRIKING MEMBERS OF EGG CANDLERS' UNION, LOCAL ALLIANCE 349, ARRESTED.

Last Saturday night the Egg Candlers' Union, Local Alliance 349 Socialist Trade & Labor Alliance, the members of which are on strike for better conditions for the workers in the trade, started to hold an agitation meeting at the corner of Rivington and Columbia streets. Just as the meeting was started an injunction issued by Supreme Court Justice O'Gorman was served on those conducting the meeting. As soon as the injunction was served and before it could clearly be made out what was up, the police began to disperse the large crowd which had assembled and were not spar ing in the use of their clubs in doing so.

Two of the speakers, Henry Yaeger and Henry Couvlander, were arrested by Detectives Clifford and Long, and taken to the Houston Street Police Station, where they were later bailed out.

The injunction is issued on the com plaint of Frank Goldstein, verified by the affidavit of Ephraim Koha. The employees of Goldstein are among those Goldstein was startled by the order, but after a while he managed to collect his wits sufficiently to state that the men had acted in a disorderly manner. He did not seem anxious to press the case then, and it went over until Thursday, the 15th of this month. The two men were then allowed to go free and no bail was demanded.

The egg candlers intend to win this fight, and they have taken the right way to do it. They are standing firmly together and it is a question of but a very little time before Goldstein will be forced to give in to the demands of the men.

To Break Machinists' Strike.

Chalmers factory with non-union men. Chalmers has called on Chief O'Niel for a detail of police to preserve order. The Allis-Chalmers plant there is building a huge engine, 39 feet high, designed for the Hecla Mine. It was to have been ready on May 29, but is only half completed, and the company is forfeiting $100 for each day's delay.

The Union pickets are striving to prevent the completion of this engine, Capt. Wilkie yesterday introduced a squad of watchers mounted on bicycles in order that the developments within the factory might be scrutinized and reported upon with greater prompness. The force of union pickets was increased and the presence of so many union men on the eve of the re-opening of the plant caused Mr. Chalmer's appeal to Chief O'Niell. The company has succeeded in securing a considerable number of non-union men for work. Other plants are expected to open withing a week. The manufacturers plan to house and board their non-union employes in the buildings of each plant.

PLEASURE-CRAFT IN BUSINESS.

How Men Keep Their Fronting Homes Near Office Doors.

On any morning, except Saturdays and Sundays mear Pier A, at the Bat-tery, and the landing of the New York Yacht Club, at the foot of East Twen-ty-third street, the low, graceful craft of private yacht owners may be seen lying to in the river, while a dingey or gasoline tender brings the owner ashore on business. The number of business men who live at some distance from the city in the summer and come in in the morning and go out at night on private yachts is con stantly increasing. Some, travel in rom points as far distant as Green-vich and Stamford, Conn., and others have homes up the Hudson or down the Jersey coast towards Long Branch and beyond. Others have no summer homes, but get aboard their yachts every night and cruise about or an-hor over night.

Probably the best known vessel of the sort is J. Pierpont Morgan's Cor-sair. E. C. Benedict comes in on the from Stamford. John Williams comes in from Stamford, also, on the Embla. J. Rogers Maxwell comes from Glen Cove on the Kismet; Simon Sterne from Tarrytown on the Loando, and

Among the other business men who enjoy this luxury are: C. R. Flint, the Artemis; H. H. Rogers, the Kanawha; Edwin D. Pierce, the Akela; John Pierce, the Seneca; Daniel Ried, the Alcedo; Harrison B. SAXTON TO APOLOGIZE.

Mrs. McKiuley's Nephew a Sterm-Center on Ellis Island.

Treasury employees at the immigrant station on Ellis Island are talking about a squabble which took place recently between Herbert Saxton, Mrs. McKinley's nephew, supervising inspector of the Contract Lubor Department, and Wm. Contract Labor Department, and Wm. K. Junker, a clerk assigned to boarding duty. The quarrel threatened to result in charges of conduct unbecoming a Government officer being made against Saxton. H. H. Moler, another boarding officer, was present when the quarrel occurred, but declines to talk about it, and Junker, who has a large family to support, has been advised to keep silent. Commissioner Fritche admits that there issioner Fritche admits that there Commissioner Fritche admits that there was a wrangle between Saxton and Junker, and that information concerning it may have reached the Washington authorities.

The dispute, in which it was said much violent language was used, was over the late arrival at Eills Island of some bag-sage from the steamship Nord-Amerika.

Junker, who was looking after the immigrants on that ship, was the object of Saxton's abuse. He sought to explain the delay, but this seemingly only tended the delay, but this seemingly only tended to make matters worse. Junker was so indignant about his treatment at the time that he threatened to bring charges against Saxton, notwithstanding the lat-ter's influential backing. It is under-stood that he has since been advised that it would be better for him and the ser-vice to let the matter down and accept

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 7 .-- Eight of the largest carriage manufacturers in this city who employ four-fifths of the carriage workers, have formed a combine to kill two birds with one stone, viz: The local union and the small manufacturer. The "Telegraph" to Be Non-"Union?"

There is a rumor in circulation on the Row, and at the Rogowski chapel, that, beginning Monday morning, August 12, the "Daily Telegraph," Sodom and Gomorrah's (Tammany's) daily-tips sheet will use hereafter the Lanston typesetting machine. As there are comparatively few union Lanston operators, the rumor is not a joyful one, all the more as it is said that the DARW WILL DES as it is said that the PAPER WILL BE RUN AS AN OPEN OFFICE.

There is no reason why this should not be so. If the Brooklyn "Eagle," "Times," New York "Post," "Sun," and "Commercial" may run "open" offices, why not the "Telegraph?"

why not the "Telegraph?"

It is rather a severe lesson for the rank and file of No. 6, the furnishers of livings to "Secret Committee" placemen and other grafters of the "Organized Scabbery" fraternity, but if it must be so, then the sooner the old style pure and simple union falls and a Socialist organization built upon its ruins, rises up to lead the workers to their emancipation the better

EXCURSION A SUCCESS.

Thousands of Happy Socialists Engoy Themselves.

The DAILY PEOPLE and Abendblatt excursion last Sunday was a grand success from every point of view. The crowd was large and jolly, and enjoyed itself to the utmost.

The first barge left Ninety-first street pier at 9:30 and had on board a happy crowd of 800 men, women and chil-Lying beside it was a barge for the Hell Gate Republican Club, and the contrast between the two crowds was startling. The Hell Gate crowd was the result of free tickets, and where it was not it was perfunctory and vulgarly middle class. The Socialist crowd was made up of happy working nen who were/bent on having a good time for a good cause. They were there because they were convinced that it was right to assist their two daily papers in he coming campaign.

The barge swung in at Third street, Manhattan, at 10 o'clock, and there was joined by another barge which had the argest crowd of all on board. It was fairly packed with persons, and every deck swarmed with humanity.

The Brooklyn barge was also well filled, and when the three came together in mid stream they held over three thou sand persons.

There was some delay in starting, but at 11 o'clock they got under way, and the festivities proceeded. Krink's band furnished the music for dancing, and the upper deck of each barge was given over to the happy couples.

The lower decks were occupied by the various booths, refreshment stands, etc., and they all did a good business.

The stay at the grove was short be-cause of the great distance, and the return voyage was soon begun. Because of the incoming tide progress was slow, and it was a late hour when the barges reached their moorings. This was no hardship as it gave opportunity for prolonged enjoyment.

A good sum will be earned for both
THE PEOPLE and the Abendblatt.

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 8.-Between wind and rain the members of the 3d battalion, 1st heavy artillery, had a mi. erable time of it yesterday at Fort Rollman, and Lieut. Gov. John L. Bates, who came out to review the troops, will have to requisition the adjutant general's department for a new $10 hat.

Rival Union Has Been Formed at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Aug. 7.-A surprise was sprung on two of the local lodges of the International Machinists' Union last night, and as a result a movement has been started in this city to form an independent international union. At the meeting of local No. 245 last night an order of the International Grand Lodge disbanding the local 245 was read. Immediately the men present formed an independent organization and sent telegrams to all parts of the country as follows:

"It is desired that all lodges dissatisfied with the international organization should join with the local lodges in forming a new international organiza-

The other local lodge will meet and probably be disbanded Friday night in the same manner. There are 1,400 members in the two local lodges.

TRYING A NEW TRICK.

STRIKERS DEPORTED FROM TAMPA BY FORCE.

Had Been Conducting a Winning Figh Against the Cigar Manufacturers-Latter Sought and Obtained the Aid of the International Cigarmakers' Union.

TAMPA, FLA., Aug. 7.—Considerable indignation has been aroused over the kidnapping of the strikers here. Yesterday a deputation of thugs hired by some rowdy business men, captured several strikers and forced them at the point of a revolver to board a yacht in waiting. The editor of "La Federacon" which is printed in Spanish was among the number spirited away. He was overpowered by the posse only after a hard struggle. Thirty of the leading agitators among the strikers have been driven away from Tampa.

Yesterday a proclamation signed "The People of Tampa," worded as follows, was issued:

"To the Anarchists and professional labor agitators we say that your days in Tampa are at an end. We cannot and will not permit you to destroy this prosperous city. If you have regard for your safety you will shake its dust from your feet. In conclusion, we notify the manufacturers that this movement of citizens is not your interest but in the interest of the entire community."

Cigar manufacturers had announced that if the strike, which had been in progress for some time, was not speedily terminated, they would close up their factories and remove their business elsewhere. This statement created a great deal of excitement and strong feeling on the part of citizens against the strike leaders and they acted in the usual "peacable, law-abiding" way that capitalists generally do.

A mass meeting, to which the leading strikers were invited, was arranged for, the scheme being to catch them all at one fell sweep, but news of the plan leaked out a: the men dispersed. The citizens, not at all deterred, began a search of the streets, and the leaders were snatched from the crowds singly and in pairs and driven to the County Jail and placed under guard. Since then they have mysteriously disappeared.

The trouble in Tampa is of long standing and is based upon the scabbing fight that the International Cigarmakers' Union has been conducting against La Resistencia, the Spanish Union. latter union has hitherto controlled the shops, and its members succeeded in keeping prices much higher than are paid This fact that prices were maintained made it evident to the 1. C. U. that the place needed to be organized. They pushed in and soon started a fight. The manufacturers and "better citizens" were naturally behind them and did all possible to smash the union that had caused so much trouble by keeping prices

This last struggle is by no means the end of the fight, nor is it the destruction of La Resistencia. The workers are determined to stand for their rights, and will allow no Organized Scabbery to dis-

TAMPA, Fig., Aug. 11 .- The attempt of the local capitalists, aided by the pure and simple cigarmakers of the International Union to break the strike of La Resistencia is doomed to failure. The members of the latter union have succeeded for some time past in keeping up prices, and such an act was looked upon by the Perkins-Strasser combine as the rankest treason. For this reason they sent members of the International to take the place of La Resistencia men when they were out on strike. This was done on several occasions, but during the last fight things have been especially bitter. The whole thing culminated in an attempt to kidnap the leaders of the Juan Gonsales, who has been missing from the labor union Resistencia headquarters for five days, appeared to-day and told a remarkable story. He said that he was seized on Tuesday night, with the other leaders of the strikers, secreted in the woods with fifteen others for twelve hours, with nothing to ent, and then placed on board a vessel at Ballast Point with a dozen of his com-rades, each of them guarded by an armed man. Before daybreak the schooner sailed down the bay. Five miles from shore Gongales says he made a break for liberty and jumped overboard.

Gonzales was hailed as a hero by the strikers. A. Rodfiguez, the new secre-tary of Resistencia elected to succeed

We will return to work under no cir-cumstances until our abducted leaders are returned to us, safe and sound. We are in no danger of starving and prepared to fight this battle to the end. THE RIOT DRILL.

An Object Lesson for the Edification of Workingmen.

The Dubuque "Daily Telegraph" in an edictorial comments as follows on the riot drill, which was given in Dubuque, as an object lesson to the working class of that city.

The remedy that the paper proposes for preventing the causes that lead to riot drills is as absurd as its conclusions on the purposes of the riot drill are clear.

"It appears that when a riot drill by the troops of the Iowa national guard. now encamped in Dubuque, was proposed to Mayor Berg he objected on the ground that injury might be done to person and property, but that on receiving assurance that special care would be taken to avoid infliction of injury he withdrew his objection and gave permission, with the result that the drill exhibition will be given some evening when the weather is cool. "Though nobody shall be shot nor property damaged, the drill is objectionable. It is so because of its sinister signorth, have their origin in labor troubles and the riot drill is an intimation to wage earners of what they may expect porches and windows, involves an hreat to those who must sell their labor for bread. It is an intimation to them of what they may expect if they should permit their detestation of oppression and injustice to assume the form either of violence or threatened violence. Moreover, it is an obnoxious implication that ultimately it is brute power that is supreme, and it is very offensive to those who cherish the theory, a theory formulated, affirmed and inculcated founders of the republic, that right and not might should rule. "An exhibition of how in a certain unfortunate emergency Americans recruited from the ranks of the people may be relied upon to shoot down other Americans is very repugnant. It is worthier of barbarism than civilization, of a despotic than a free government. Better than such a drill would be an effort to devise and apply methods for preventing riots by preventing their causes. Riots are but symptoms of social disease, and to shoot down rioters is to deal with effects instead of causes. The citizen who can find pleasure even in the imitation of such a spectacle has yet to catch the spirit of the sermon on the mount and the inspiration which dictated the declaration of independence. What is needed, instead of riot drills, are laws which will compel corporations, which are the creations and creatures of law, to submit to arbitration, and which will repeal privileges and thus, by insuring a more equitable distribution of wealth, reward labor with a larger share of what it produces and incidentally remove causes of industrial discontent, strikes and violence. The legislation which should do this would abolish the need for troops for the maintenance of domestic order, and at the same time diminish the military spirit, which is and ever has been a dangerous menace to free institu-

COAL COMBINE.

American Miners Work So Cheaply That Europe is Afraid.

LONDON, Aug. 7.-The British Consular report regarding trade at Marseilles, issued this morning, declares that the most vital recent development, from a British view point, is the determined attempt of the United States to obtain a monopoly of the coal imports at that

The report further says it is still too early to say how much of the general activity in Marseilles in the future will be due to American enterprise and en-ergy, but it is certain that a large share of the future trade and commercial ac-tivity, both at Marseilles and in the south of France generally will be absorbed by the United States, and a considerable portion of it at the expense of the United Kingdom, unless British traders wake up to the danger and fight it by combination.

A great coal combine is contemplated.
Without it American coal will surely share the market, but will not be able managed to reach shore with the and of some floating wreckage and according to to entirely oust British coal. It would bis story hid in the woods until yester-bis story hid in the woods until yester-duality, both of which are against the graphing fearing to return to the United States, but the proposed combine looks dangerous.

Los Angeles Laundry WorkersStrike for a Reduction in Hours-They are "Initiated" Into a Pure and Simple Labor Union- A Scheme to Make Money.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 12.-A' strike which occurred among the laundry workers of this city the first of July, is still being fought out along pure and simple lines. At present it looks as though the girls would soon be defeated. The facts as told a representative of the DAILY PEOPLE are as follows: The laundry girls have been working from 10 to 16 hours a day, never knowing in the morning when they would get through at night. About three months ago they held a meeting and J. Ince, then organizer of the C, of L., organized nificance. Most riots, especially in the them into the Laundry Workers' Union, charging each girl $1 initiation fee.

After being organized about two months, the following demands were if for any reason their differences with made: Ten hours to constitute the regemployers develop into disorder. The ular work day; time and one-half for drill, which consists of the passage of overtime; and recognition of the L. W. soldiers through the streets firing at U. The first two demands the employers conceded, but refused to recognize the union, so they decided to strike. Well. it is the same old story. They went out and a great bluster, three out of four of the daily papers whooped it up for the girls, and many were the sad, sympathetic and soul-stirring articles which appeared on the front pages of these pa-pers, while in the want column appeared ads for help at the scab laundries. Thus did the "Herald" and "Express" show their hypocrisy, while the poor girls, manifesting that noble rebellious spirit which we Socialists so much admire, were enthusiastic over the supposed success of the first effort.

Not understanding the capitalist system, not considering the army of unemployed, and the constant improvement of the machine, they could not realize what they were up against, and now after six weeks of and fighting, defeat is staring them in the face. That their cause was just, no workingman could dispute, and the courage manifested was certainly

On July 26 a mass meeting was ha'd publicly to explain the girls' position, and we heard the same old stale sympathetic pure and simple labor speech that we have been hearing for the last 15 years, closing up with a soothing speech by a capitalist lawyer, not a word about the tendency of of the capitalist system, not a word about voting against the capitalist class, once again convicting the leaders of the pure and simple trade unions of either crass ignorance and stupidity or criminal crookedness. The scab laundries while crippled to some extent, are-sad to sayrunning, and the new hands are getting more proficient every day. Out of over 400 who went out only about 16 have gone back, showing a remarkable spirit of solidarity that is being run aground by the leaders. The "business men" expressed their sympathy just as they do for anything that hetre is a chance to draw trade by. Out of nine laundries one conceded the demands of the girls and consequently, is doing a land-office business, but the ab laundries are fast recovering with new machinery picking up lost trade. The pure and simplers here have a fairly large organization, but with leaders, some of whom are merely ignor-amuses, and others who are corrupt, they accomplished no lasting good. The "Times," an open enemy of the working class, has exposed some of the fakirs and crooks in the local labor circles, with the hope of disgusting the rank and file with trade-unionism. The members of the S. T. &L. A. hope that the honest rank and file of the unions here will open their eyes, think for themselves, throw off the fakirs and organize alongthe lines of class-conscious political ac-tion. While we sympathize with the laundry workers we hope it will teachthem not to go on strike under the leader ship of men of whom the best that can be said is that they are fools.

Some of the fakirs and small capitalists are going to start a co-operative laundry for the "benefit"-read "exploitation"-of the laundry workers. Needless to add that subject to the iron laws of capitalism, it can only compete in of capitalism, it can only compete in so far as it conforms to the tendencies of capitalism, which means the exploita-tion of the workers. Another pitfall and delusion for workingmen and women,

The Steel Strike, Its Cause and Its Results-Playing the Men for Political Reasons-Shaffer and His Unclean Record-On With the Socialist Labor

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 8 .- As the class struggle rapidly grows in intensity, we are making a good deal of history in these, the long sultry days of the dog, and in this same history the old style inpure and simple school of Fakirdom is cutting quite a figure. But to one who understands the class struggle and its significance, it is an open question whether the capers of the Gompers, Shaffer, Dolan et al tribe is more ridiculous or contemptible. The fact is that they favor strongly of both.

Anyone who has in the last year and a half observed closely the contortions of the fakirs in this vicinity, can see that fakirdom believes that the old impure and silly trades union has about run its career. And all they are trying to do is to produce artificial respiration in the dying body, and thereby keep up their system of meal tickets a little longer. This is clearly shown when such organizations as the United Mine Workers are spelled to resort to such desperate and brutal methods as the infamous check-off system in order to preserve a semblance of an organization. As far as the check off among the miners is concerned, that is all that fakixiom has contended for dur-ing the last year and a half. Dolan ("check-off Pat") has been one of the at active in supporting and working this cowardly system of daylight bery. Now at least one phestn-) bery. Now at least one prominent cial in the A. A. of I. S. & Tin Workers hints that the check-off ought to be put in force in that organization also. As the Flint Glass Workers and the ndow Glass Workers have what is ut equivalent to a check-off, it all re solves itself down to a question of mea ets for the fakirs, and the ways and

The fakirs of the United Mine Work-ers were very sudden in offering aid to the striking steel workers when they did need it. On the other hand the ers scabbed it quite merrily on the striking firemen; took their jobs, broke their strike, and helped the capitalists beat them back/to work, that is such as could get back. Of course it will now be in order for Mitchell and Check-off Pat once more to orate about those Socialist union wreckers, etc., etc., Rats! I here and now make the broad asserthat the impure and stupid old style present time. So intent, are the fak-in pursuit of check-off meal tickets the question of wages for the rank file is largely ignored. In and about Pittsburg the market price for commodi-ties and the demand for labor calls for much higher wages than fakirdom has dared to ask for in these days of "unparaleled prosperity."

For instance, the Carpenters scale calls for nine hours and, $3 per day. Advertisements appear in the newspapers offering $3.50 per day. The bricklayers scale calls for nine hours and 45 cents hour. Advertisements appear in the ers offering 50 cents and 60 cents

In the last two years window glass has advanced 135 per cent. Window glass workers' wages have, all told, advanced r'out 17 per/cent. While manufacturers are appariently divided into two camps—to omit the "Trust" and the "independents."—yes their battles are only sham battles, for they get together all right and agree! to keep stocks down and prices up. The window glass workers, too, are divided into two camps, the Burns union, and the anti-Burns union. (Yoonin in this case sounds peculiarly rich.) Their battles are not sham battles. So between their clothes' line fights, their charges and contercharges (which are all true), their caterwauling and watching for a chance to scab it on each other, the question of wages during this season of "unexampled prosperity" is of little importance. Oh window glass worker, well did they dub thee "cinderhead."

Simon Burns is "president" of one etion, also a director in the American Mindow Glass (Trust) Company and advertises once in a while for scabs, and they tell us this is a youin.

In June of last year, steel bars were selling at 95 cents and $1 per hundred pounds. At the same time the puddlers were, by the voluntary action of the manufacturers, getting $6 to $6.12½ per ton. Immediately after the A. and A. convention of last year, Shaffer at Milwankee signed a scale for puddling for $4.75 per ton, and this, too, without any pressure or demand from the manuany pressure or demand from the manufacturers whatever. What he did it for only the devil and Shaffer know. But ne he did it to Injure the so-I presume he did it to injure the so-called union men, because nearly all judding done in mills not controlled by

After Shaffer had thus invited the manufacturers to cut wages, of course hey did it, and put puddling down to 55 a ton, or 25 cents, better than Shaf-er's dirty work. Had Shaffer about t time made himself as conspicuous at some of the milis as he is doing ng the last scale year simply because he open market afforded such terms and prices and a great deal more.

ago were never incorporated in year's scale, and as a mater of course it was signed without one instant's hesitation by the manufacturers. This was heralded abroad by the Shaffer crew as a great victory by the A. A., won over

he manufacturers,
The bi-monthly revision of the scale was due on July 1. It showed that for the previous sixty days the selling price of bars had averaged $1.30, thus, as per scale, bringing the price for puddling to $5.25 a ton, or a beggarly 25 cents a ton of a raise. The case in a nutshell is this: Fourteen months ago, with bars selling at 95 cents and $1, puddlers got $6 to $6.12½ a ton; now, with bars selling for at least $1.30, pud-dlers are getting $5.25 a ton. And this is a victory for organized labor, is it?

These are a few samples of fakir-rid-den impure and simpledom. I might enumerate many more cases along the same lines. In and about Pittsburg workmen are not getting near the wages that the market affords. The fakirs are so busy looking after their own meal tickets and future-that the wages of the rank and file cut little or no figure whatever.

The sole purpose of fakirdom at present is to obtain what they are pleased to call "Recognition of the Unions," in order that dues may come in preferably through the infamous check-off system This all means meal tickets for the fakirs, and only this and nothing more. Wages or any other temporary benefit for the rank and file are relegated to the rear until we obtain "Recognition of the Union." Wages are stationary, with the chances that winter will bring a downward tendency. Yet the price of living is constantly mounting higher and ed that the rank and file have had their share of this "unexampled prosperity."

The Pittsburg Buzzards' Roost, sometimes called the Labor League, is still alive and going through the motions. It is some time now since these intellect-ual giants and horny handed sons of rest have passed any resolutions con-demning the legend "U. S. Mail" being allowed to remain on the trolley cars high-handed outrage against sons of toil ought to be resented. I trust the league will look after this matter and do some more resoluting against it. In the published accounts eague's preparations for the Labor Day celebration I see that the bearded lady from Mount Washington and Me-Too Wyatt rather got the jolt. Is it possi-ble that the populace are to be debarred from the sight of that cylinder hat and those luxuriant whiskers that adorn this "champion of labor" as he is hauled up Fifth avenue in a carriage that some else pays for? Can such things Heaven forbid it. Evidently "boring from within" by half-baked, muddleheaded, me-too Socialists doesn't amount lical jobs.

The great and burning issues now before the Roost are who shall wear the ancient plug hat, the big, red sashes, ride the Booth & Flinn cart horses and ride in the second hand livery backs on Labor Day. Oh, ye workingmen, verily I say unto yau, great is the Buzzards' Roost and the members thereof!

THE STEEL STRIKE.

Much of the significance of this strike hinges upon the fact that the capitalist class: i. e., the Trust, is rapidly finding out that the services of the labor fakir to the capitalist class can be dispensed with. Time was, and not so long ago when the services of the labor fakir to the capitalist class were quite valuable. The capitalist and the capitalist class counted on these services, received them and paid for them in their own peculiar way. So we see, almost to a man, the so-called labor lenders of the past, while loudly shouting "No poli-tics in the union," almost invariably landed either in a soft political snap or given fat jobs in the direct employ of the capitalist class, where they could do their dirty work even better than the capitalist can do it himself. We have the long list of serviles, the names of Powderly, Ratchford, Bishop, Garland, Jarrett, Nutt, Weihe, Eberhardt, Carney and scores of others. So much has this been the practice that it has come to be regarded as a rule and a matter of course. Otherwise Mark Hauna nev-er could have coined the expression, "My

In these later days has come a change. The class struggle has grown deeper, worthy to do so. er a local question, no longer a question of a craft against a boss or firm. The whole question and situation has out-grown the labor fakir and his abilities. It has outgrown the old impure and simple, non-political, so-called Thanks to the trust, that is fast sweeping aside the petty middle-class obstruction-ists and their political quacks of the Henry George and Bryan stamp, that is fast sweeping aside the old impure and simple trade union obstruction, its stupid, crooked and useless fakirs. These are but the third man in a fight that keeps the real combatants apart so they cannot get together and fight it out

This struggle is rapidly assuming all the characteristics and dimensions of a class struggle, a field and a struggle in which it will take a vastly bigger man than your labor fakir to cut any figure, and that, too, even though his name be Shaffer.

The trust, holding all economic power, is aware of the fact that the working class have no economic power. The trust, controlling all political power, has found out that the fakir has no political influence. So they, the trust or capitalist class, finds that the fakir is no longer a useful employee. Therefore, why employ him?

As a matter of course, Shaffer and his crow expected to follow in the footsteps of their predecessors and land in a good thing, and to that end Shaffer was willing to do any dirty work that the capital-ist class required. It was for this reason that he gave his lying testimony be-for the Labor Commission. It was for would have gone hard with him. this he signed the cutthrout scale at Milly some of the sapheads in Mc- waukee. It was for this that, in the was merely a repetition of last year's lit was for this that last fall he resigned groups and prices, terms and prices paid his office and journeyed to Ohio and oftourney by the manufacturers dur matter of wages, he has contended for more called in to do the angel of peace act and sell the workingmen another gorgeous specimen of the gold brick. But we warn Mark that he will have to give our Dorry a job on the dog wagon. Oththis mortgage on a fat job as soon as the off the face of the earth. I expect the lection was over.

Judge, then, of Shaffer's astonishment when Dick informed him plainly that they would not employ him on the stump on any condition. You see even the cap despises your impure and simple labor fakir. So there remained nothing for him to do but scoot back to Pittsburg and hedge on that resignation. But Shaffer and the gang took the hint, and now that labor fakirs are not in line for sure things, Shaffer has changed his tune some about trusts. They are not quite so good a thing as he thought they were when he appeared before the La bor Commission as a paid sucker and lar. He even hints that this strike may bring about a change in political senti-ment, etc., etc. All because be can't get a job on the dog wagon along with Garland and all the other worthics of that ilk! So if the dog wagon and its political jobs are not open to your poor but honest and hard working labor fakirs, then he must fall back on the old meal ticket a while longer; hence all this clamor for "recognition of the union," with the universal check-off cs a possibil-

As to the strike itself, whether it is won or lost is of little consequence to anyone except the fakirs. When it is all over and "settled" there will be NOTHING SETTLED, least of all the irrepressible, class, struggle between the capitalist class and the working class. Any apparent benefits that may appear to come to the working class out strike will be as shortlived and fleeting as a little morning mist. No economic movemment has been so thoroughly overestimated as this strike, unless it might be the Homestead fiasco. That was a strike purely to preserve the "aristocracy of Labor," and I say so-all opinions to the contrary notwithstanding, Fakirdom says this strike is to maintain the right to organize. It is not true. In this instance, the Trust does not deny to such mills as have been heretofore organized the right to still remain organized, but such mills as have been non-union shall remain non-union.

On general principles the capitalist class does not deny to the working class the right to organize. Oh, no! that would create too much controversy, and might awaken intelligent thought leading up te intelligent class conscious political action. They let the impure and simplers organize, and then get them to vote for and elect capitalistic legislators and judges who make laws and rulings to emasculate the trades union, and sandbag it, with deputy sheriffs, State militia and United States troops. Oh-the right to organize? Oh, yes, certainly, certainly, and it is this kind of politics that puts your Judas of a labor fakir into polit-

The truth of the matter is that it is out of the power of the capitalist class to break up organized labor as the Socialist Labor Party will soon prove. This fight will not be fought out in the back yard of some paltry old wornout impure and simple trades union, but upon the great battlefield of the class struggle where the striker votes as he strikes and strikes as he votes-against the capitalist class.

This etrike has not been declared to preserve the existence of trades unionperpetuate fakirdom-only that and nothing more. The survival of trades unionism does not depend on the winning of this strike, but the survival of fakirdom does. It's a question of meal tickets for fakirs.

Many of the men who are now joining the Amalgamated Association are simply allowing themselves to be stampeded. They have given no serious thought to the matter, and do not really know themselves why they are doing it.

But there is a large element that have long since become disgusted with impure and simpledom and its crew of fakirs and will never under any condi-tion go back. These men regard a union card granted by a bona fide union as a certificate of good character and a matter of some importance. These men before they again ask an organization for a certificate of good character will want to know three things:

First-That they need a certificate of good character.

Second-That the organization issuing said certificates of good character is

Third-In view of Shaffer's past record they will require that the officer signing these certificates of good character shall have a little character of his own, in which case his name will not be Shaffer.

Mark is a hog. Mark knows it himself and everybody else knows it as well. Mark does not pretend to be anything else but a hog and not a very fancy hog at that. Just a plain, bristley, thickhided, hungry, bribe-giving, money-grub bing, labor-sweating HOG, a magnificent type of the capitalist class. Mark is candidate for the Presidency and thereby hangs a tale.

Last fall, scarcely had the strike of the anthracite miners been hinted at than the operators put up the price of coal 50 cents a ton. Two weeks after the strike was decared off, the Pittsburg "Post" in an editorial told tales out of school. It stated that if the 50 cents per ton held good for one year it would bring in $27,000,000. If the agreement with the miners held good for one year the miners would get out of this $7,000,000. This was the much bonsted of victory that Mitchell and others shouted so loudly about at the time Well, it was one of those victories for labor that need not cost the capitalist any loss of sleep. This was the prime object of this strike. The second pur-pose appeared when Marcus Aurelius, the hog, appeared on the scene in the guise of an angel of peace, and he used his "influences" to procure "a settlement of the strike.

Political capital was what this hog was after and he got it. Now it is hint-It was for this that, in the ed that Hanna can and will be once wages, he has contended for more called in to do the angel of peace

The developements of the last week show that Schaffer and Williams discredited by the Ex-Board as to what actually passed between them and Schwab and Morgah on their first trip to New York. This proves that the Amalgamated Union is not a union at all, simply a disquion; a body disunited ever at the head, where no man's word is good where all suspect each other, and not without reason. Want of confidence in each other exists, and it required a trip to New York of the entire board to con vince the board of just what Morgan did say. At this time there is a clearly presed suspicion that Schaffer & William agreed to sell out and goldbrick the rank and file, but on their return to Pittsburg could not deliver the goods. Every time Schaffer open his head he reverses and contradicts himself. Per-haps out of this experience the rank and file will learn that class conscious political action tending to a complete overthrow of capitalism is their only hope.

One thing is certain, the final res prove all that has been predicted by our speakers in and about Pittsburg, and it will go hard with us but we shall leave no opportunity unimproved to expose the uselessness of the old impure and simple union and the crookedness of fakirdom.

In my opinion the fact has now been clearly demonstrated, that the old style only outlived its union has not usefulness, but that it has actually be come an obstruction to the progress of society in general, and to the working class in particular. The rank and file of the working class are honest, patient under abuse, sadly deceived and misled by their so-called leaders, and far more intelligent than certain people imagine they are It only remains for the golden truths of genuine Socialism to be igently and attractively presented and they will embrace them.

I am inclined to believe that some o our comrades are a trifle too sentimental in their feelings toward fakirdom, a little afraid that they will be called hard names. This fiasco of a strike has clinched my opinion that it must be war and uncompromiseing war upon fakirdom to a finish. These misleaders must be posed and lashed out of the field with their crass stunidity, and their criminal practices. I hope that the party members and the members of the S. T. & L. will quickly come to a conviction that it is war upon fakirdom until it is exterminated. Then the working class can be taught class conscious politics with ease

Knowing what we know, the time for decisive action has fully come, and here-after any pattering with fakirdom by the Socialist verges on the criminal. Revolutionists are never popular until the revolution becomes a success. We are in for it, and so let it be—war to the knife, and on with the S. L. P. and the S. T. H. A. GOFF, Sr.

PHOTOGRAPHING TROLLEY EM-PLOYEES.

B. R. T. Treats Applicants for Work Like Criminals.

The Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company has adopted a new system for identifying applicants for employment on its lines. It has a photographer at its office where applicants report who takes a picture of the man seeking work. As soon as prints are made from the negative, one is sent to each person whom the man has given as a reference.

A letter from W. W. Wheatley, general superintendent of the company, nccompanies each photograph with a request for full information about the man A carbon tracing of the man's signature also enclosed. The photographs are unmounted and are of the size and style used in police records.

An employee of the company said:

"The next thing the Brooklyn Rapid Transit will do will be to establish the Bertillion system in use by the police.

Every applicant for work will be measured and his marks taken." It is distusteful to the men to be treated as criminals and photographed, but they must submit or go without a job.
The company explains its action t stating that there were so many changes among employees on the system that stringent precautions to prevent men who have been discharged from other roads for theft or other serious offenses from securing employment were neces-

TILLMAN DEFENDS HIS FACTION.

Denounces "The Commercial Democracy," Favored, He Says, by McLaurin.

UNION, S. C., Aug. 10 .- Senator B. R. Tillman, addressing a big meet-ing here yesterday, discussed "The Commercial Democracy" advocated by Senator McLaurin. He said: "The report is going the rounds that I give them credit for more patriotism and for more sense. These mill people know that would run into a stone wall and that the people are not for sale. I want to give a warning to such as have been misled. There are some of these weak creatures around, but I feel that all are not so foolish.

GRINDING LABOR.

TROY MANUFACTURERS AND THEIR SCIENTIFIC WAGE REDUCTION.

The Pure and Simple Labor Union and the Failures It Has Scored—History of a Memorable Strike-The Collar Trust and the Work It Will Do.

About sixteen years ago the Kuights of Labor was in a flourishing condition in Troy. They had everything in sight organized, therefore, they had the collar girls of Troy in the K. of L. After they were well organized one of the bosses made a cut on a good grade of work that was going through, then came a strike. After a week of strike all of the bosses locked out the rest of the workers. The collar cutters were not in the union or in the K. of L. They were the "aristocracy of labor," and did not have any use for the common laborer as they were making good wages.

At that time a committee of three, consisting of an iron worker a tanner, and a laborer, was appointed to settle the strike, but when the bosses saw the kind of fakirs sent to settle the strike they started to have some fun with them. They brought out some of their goods, and asked their opinion of them, and enquired what they thought of the quality, etc. This knocked the committee speechless, and they had to dig out.

A man named Cauthnaugh was the tanner. He was a Canadian, and as he was the chief local fakir he was able to live like a lord.

Mansion was second to the chief, and holder of a job at present at Albany. The third one of the bunch went in business after the strike and never work-

Although Cauthnaugh was the chief, Mansion was the moving spirit, and he got the chief to send for a state organizer and one named Hayes came. Mansion got the inside track of Cauthnaugh with Haves and froze him out, and established headquarters at a well-known cafe near the City Hall, and enlisted a notorious politician as a go-between.

It was then the messages began to go thick and fast to the Troy Club, where the manufacturers held conferences. All the time while this was going on between the fakirs and the bosses, Hayes and his followers were attending the meeting of the girls. Hayes would get up and make a speech, and tell them that they had the bosses on the run, and before long the bosses would be on their knees begging them to go to work.

After the girls were out for several weeks, and as most of them were living from hand to mouth, and some of them had mothers to support, many went looking for strike funds. They had to make an affidavit that they were starying before they could get the stupendous amount of $2. Still, the poor girls could not see, while Hayes was preaching: "Keep together: don't give up," that he getting the highest bid for his share,

Finally, there was a meeting when he had a dierent song to sing, and these are the words, without music: "Girls, it is no use keeping up this fight any longer. The bosses have everything all their own way. They have you in a bad place, and my advice to you is to go back to work and take anything you can get.

It was common talk that he got $5,000 for his job. The girls went back and received another cut, and they have been getting cut ever since. Of course, the union went to pieces. About five or six weeks ago one of the bosses put in a new machine that will do twenty-five per cent more work than the old one, and the girls were satisfied to work it at the same rate as it was piece work. The bosses could not see it that way, therefore, there was a strike, but is was of short dura-tion, for there was plenty to take their a labor leader There is in the trade named McMahon, who called a meeting to be held in the City Hall about that time, to organize girls. Some of the wiser fakirs got hold of him and told him it would be better to organize them secretly as some busybody night attend if it was public and spoiled their game. He took the advice and organized Local Union 65. Last week there was another call issued a meeting to be held in the City Hall. The call did not state that it was for collar workers exclusively, so four of the comrades of the S. T. & L. A. went to the meeting but when Leo the Fakir saw the red buttons he held a confer-ence with the National Fakir, Robinson, who was there to organide the poor lambs. Then they went right away the chief of police and brought him there, and had him clear the room of all but collar workers. The red buttons had to get out in the hall leading to the room. The fakirs did not know that it was public property and he wanted the chief to put them out of the hall, but the chief told him that the red buttons had a right to remain in the hallway. The members of the Socialist Trade and Labor Alliance have sisters who are collar workers and they will keep them posted and spoil this little game of more dues and initiation fees. A word or two about the manufactur-erers and how they fleece the workers is not out of place. A great many of the machines which cost from $40 to $150 are owned by the manufacturers, and they rent them to the girls for 50 cents per week. As the life of a machine is from 10 to 15 years and the bosses get $26 per year, it is a good investment. They have a well regulated system for cutting wages, as all of the large manufacturers have branch shops in the country where labor is cheap. Then they will begin to make the work in the city shop when they think they have the parade all of the men collar workers walked side by side with their bosses, and they were the largest body of mer in line of any one craft. perfectly happy walking with their bosse as htey recognized that capital and labor were brothers. The bosses show then that they will associate with their help around election so that they can foo them a little longer.

The poor dupes will get on sometime for it was but two months after elec tion that brother labor and brother ital got into a fight. The little brother whipped the big brother, and it is always so when they fight on unequal We do not want to be called proph ets but look out for a general tie-up of the collar industry of Troy. The Cluett, Peabody Company have increased their capital stock from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000, divided as follows: $2,486,000 preferred and $2,514,000 common. This is a trust and if their firm swing it successful you can look out for a crash of some of the cockroach collar manufacturers of which we have a great many in Troy, before the strike is ended PRESS COMMITTEE.

OUT-GENERALED.

Pure and Simplers' Vain Attempt to Oust S. L. P.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 4 .- The great

"anti-injunction" meeting was held here on the public square last night. The capitalist papers had spread the news broadcast and a good big crowd turned out. The real object of the meeting was to counteract the influence of the S. L. P. The buzz-saw had been cutting deep into pure and simpledom and something has to be done. The S. L. P. holds agi tation meetings every Saturday night during the summer, on the public square in front of the post office and the Chamber of Commerce. This spot is getting to be a warm place for the discussion of economics. The working class are taking kindly to our teachings and the capitalists have taken alarm at our success Therefore the labor fakirs were trotted out to work through the C. L. U. for the interest of their capitalist masters. The single-tax, labor skinning, multimillionaire and mayor, Tom L. Johnson, readily granted the fakirs permission to use the rostum-a privilege refused the S. L.

The rostum has been decorated with electric lights and it was a fine show for the S. L. P. to see the fakirs, and dirty little politicians and office hunters with their wives and sweethcarts sented there under the glare.

The motive for the meeting was to try and drive the S. L. P. off the public square but it didn't work. The rostrum is directly across the street where we hold our meetings and nothing daunted. we held our meeting as usual. Comrade Goerke introduced John Kircher for the S. L. P., who captured the crowd ahead of the C. L. U. and held them spell bound. When the C. L. U. appeared with a brass band and transparencies they were thunderstruck at the immense audience at the old stand of the S. L. P. which continued to stay with us. The C. L. U. chairman was a republican ward heeler in the first ward, Mike Goldsmith a bartender, who introduced that traitor Robert Bandlow, S. D. P. (shameless doomed party). The trades unionists who despise Bandlow left the rostrum and came over to our meeting Kircher and Dinger took each faking freak as they appeared and exposed them before 500 or 600 people. The beautiful illsmelling onions sat in a bunch.

Robert Bandlow and Max Haves the traitors and hypocrites who were there preaching against injunctions, had themselves, stood with the N. Y. Kangs who applied for an injunction against N. E. C. from issuing our party organ (The People). Another expelled mem-ber from the S. L. P., Andy Dugan, was to create a disturbance. You may imagine how he was handled as the Cleveland S. L. P. is in no mood to be monkeved with. Another was Doctor Tuck erman an office hunting reformer an old time Pop and Single Taxer whom Tom L. Johnson turned down as health officer New he is with the shameless doomed party crying "anti-injunction." Is it to be wondered that the rank and file despises these freaks and numerous others who are misleading the ranks labor to disastrous results as per Amal gamated Iron and Steel Worke We had three speakers, Kircher, Dinger and Veal, they held the crowd spell bound for three hours. It was a sight that made Bandlow weep to see how the trades unionists despised him. It will be a long time before the C. L. U. tries to chase the S. L. P. from the square again.

The capitalist dailes published items to boost Hayes, the gutter snipe reporters are friends of his. Bandlow is nearly done for and his time is short by the looks of that meeting, if I am any judge, Perhaps the Rev. Cooley, the Director of Charities under the single taxer, Tom L. Johnson, will give Bandlow a job smallpox inspector, he was a staunch attendant of Rev. Cooley's church before his appointment to office. Cleveland is the worst hot bed of freaks and reformers and labor misleaders from P. M. Ar-thur down to Max Slobodin Hayes of any State in the Union. Down with the la bor fakir, down with capitalism, U with the Socialist Republic, up with th S. T. & L. A. Needless to say we sold a large number of Daily Peoples and other literature.

TAMMANY TOUGH JAILED.

M'CAMN PERSISTED IN DISTURBING AN S. L. P. MEETING.

Peliceman O'Brien Frowned Upon for Doing His Duty-Featherstone's Man Held on Charge Despite Magistrate Brann's Action-Case Comes Up To

An attempt was made by some Tammany toughs, members of the Cherokee Club, to break up an open-air meeting of the Socialist Labor Party, held corner of Seventy-ninth street and First avenue on Wednesday night of last week. The cool ness of Comrade James Hunter, who was speaking, and of the other Party members present, prevented the attempt from

Policeman James J. O'Brien, of the East Sixty-seventh Street Station, was sent to protect the meeting, did his best to quiet the disturbance, but was compelled to arrest Christopher McCann, of 412 East Eighty-first street, an em ploye of the Department of Highways and friend of Deputy Commissioner Wil-liam N. Shannon. McCann and his friends threatened the officer when he ordered them to desist from disturbing

The meeting was held about one hun-dred feet from the headquarters of the Cherokee Club, and the club members began to take an interest in what was going on when they heard the crowd heartily cheer the auxi-capitalist and anti-Tammany denunciations of Hunter.
O'Brien had his hands full, as another officer who was present showed that his sympathies were with the thugs. O'Brien had to keep him in check also. Not until he took McCann to the lock-up did politicians and small boys followed, but disturbance end. The Cherokees, the workingmen were too much interested in the remarks of the speaker to bother about the incident other than to de-mounce it as an outrage. "Its just like those Tammanyites," said one man, "they can't face the truth."

When O'Brien reached the station his iors frowned upon him as he arraigned his prisoner. McCann was bailed out by State Senator Maurice Featherstone and led back in triumph to the club-house. The S. L. P. speakers immediately huried a defant challenge to of the Cherokees to debate the ques tion with them, but, needless to say, the challenge was not taken. The meeting closed with three cheers and a tiger for the Socialist Labor Party.

Tammany heelers freezy predicted dire results to Policeman O'Brien from his

Yesterday morning Deputy Commis sioner Shannon had a long talk with Magistrate Brann before McCann was arraigned in the Yorkville Police Court. The result of it was noticeable as soon as the policeman brought his prisoner up to the har. He charged McCann not only with having interrupted a political meeting sanctioned by the public authorities, but also with threatening to tear the uniform off his back and similar reme because he is a politician."

"Did you tell him that you would arrest Mr. Croker himself if it were necessary?" demanded the Magistrate. "Yes, sir, I did," admitted O'Brien,
"What occasion had you to drag Mr. roker's name into this affair?" the agistrate asked sternly.

"I did it simply because that man and his friends kept on threatening me with all kinds of things," the policeman explained.

"Well, I guess there was but little cause for an arrest," Magistrate Brann concluded, preparing to mark a decision on the complaint.

O'Bries nothing daunted. "I have witnesses and I want them heard."

"All right," the Magistrate replied, evidently put out. "Get your subpoenas.

I'll adjourn this case till to-morrow morning. The prisoner is paroled in the meantime."

A FARCICAL HEARING.

Magistrate Brann's Trial of Public Dis

Magistrate Brann turned the dignity of his court into an opera bouffe when Christopher McCann, the Cherokee Club member, who was arrested on Wednesday night by Policeman James J. O'Brien on a charge of disturbing a Socialist Labor Party meeting at Seventy-ninth street and First avenue and refusing to go away when ordered, came up for trial. A n ordered, came up for trial. was thus able to overhear what took place between McCann and the police-man. He was positive, he said, that he heard McCann say after he had been made a prisoner: "If you take me past that club I'll have you broke."

Magistrate Brann then asked, was it not a fact that he had been "pitching into" the Cherokee Club, and that was the reason that the Tammany men present resented such remarks; to which Hunter replied that if any man lesires to ask a question he may do so. "Was any question asked you at the

"What was asked?"

"Why the Socialists persist in going round and creating trouble between capital and labor."

"What did you say to that?"
"I answered that Labor has no desire to create a disturbance, and any man that talked as did the questioner did not know what he was talking about. All that Socialists desire is that the maall the people, instead of by the capital-ist class."

Here the Magistrate quickly changed the subject and said, "I don't care to hear your Socialistic principles; you're an orator, and I don't care to listen to any politics now. YOU SOCIALISTS TOO INTELLIGENT, ANY-HOW."

When the second witness, Ernest Kats, a bookkeeper employed in a Third ave-nue department store took the stand, he was asked by the magistrate:

"I have no gory locks to shake," replied O'Connor.

The Magistrate culed out all testimony bearing on what had been done or said after McCann had been placed under arrest. O'Brien himself was the last within the arresecution. He said that nest. MINERS' CONFERENCE.

FAKIRS PREPARING TO DUPE MEN IN ALLIED CRAFTS.

They are to Send Out Committees to Investigate the Matter-No Deman is Will Be Made for Some Time to Come -No Action on Union Card.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 11.-Before adjourning at noon to-day the United Mine Workers' officials, who have been in session at Hazleton for three days, made the first move toward the desired union of the mine workers of all kinds. It is expected by next April to have the coal-hoisting engineers, the stationary firemen, blacksmiths, carpenters and teamsters who now have locals of their own join the United Mine Workers, so that every mine employee will be under one head and a strike will be a sweeping one.

The officials to-day directed the various locals (there is one at each mine) to discover the feeling of the members of the other five unions and do what they can to induce them to join the United Mine Workers. This work will be pushed vigorously and the delegates will be able to report at the meeting of National President Mitchell and the National Executive Board at Hazleton on August 27. Then it will be determined what more active measures are to be taken toward obtaining the end desired.

It is well understood among the men that there will be no general movement to obtain any demand from mine owners until the end of the agreement but hat in April next there will be a general effort on the part of every man employed in and about the mines to get an eight-hour day and a proportionate increase in pay, as well as the grant of several minor demands. It is hoped by that time to have forced all the non-union men out of the mines into the unions and to be in position to declare the most extensive and damaging strike in the history of the trade.

. No further action was taken regarding the union card, except that it was deemed best to allow conditions to remain as they are at present, to discountenance any more strikes and to allow the men now on strike to remain out unless the companies will allow the union Card Committees in the mines. Committees are also to wait on the operators and get their views on the question in order to report at the August 27 conference in Hazleton to-night to arrange plans for the coming

Made by New Appointee to Factory Inspectorship.

NEWARK, Aug. 9 .- William H. Conklin, the Green street cigar manufacturer, who was yesterday appointed a deputy factory inspector by Governor Voorhees, to succeed George W. Taylor, says he is going to give up his private business and devote his entire attention to the work before him in Essex County.

"One thing I am going to pay particular attention to," he said, to-day, "is the employment of children in factories and shops. I am unalterably opposed to child labor, and you may be sure I will do my full duty in this respect.

"I had to go to work when I was 11 years old myself, and I know what it is. A factory is no place for a child. Boys and girls should be sent to school as many years as possible, not only for their minds, but for their bodies. It is very unhealthful to send a child to work too young: I feel as strongly on the subject as the Trades Council do, and I am going to do my utmost to stamp out the

"I am a great believer in union labor," he went on, "although I have many friends who belive otherwise than the union men. Ithink organized labor is a good thing unless the members get too radical. Radicalism is a bad thing on either side, and I have always counseled moderation in settling questions of capital and labor.

"You may say this much. I intend to perform the duties of my office to the best of my ability, and without fear or favor. I intend to see that the labor laws are carried out by employers and employees alike. SHAFFER'S STRIKE ORDER.

Demoralization of Strike Situation Forced Him to Act.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 7.-Shaffer has is-

He is already notorious for his mysterious exits and entrances on the stage of his operations. you see him and then you don't. Night before last he gave it out that he would issue a ten days' notice the next day to the manufacturers that a strike would be ordered. stead, however, of sending notice to the manufacturers yesterday he put out his strike ukase and said that the manufacturers had had notice enough.

Such a manoeuvre might have been expected from him after the way he had been blowing hot and cold for nearly a month, and doubtless the strike order would have been discounted if it had not been that it seemed to everybody in Pittsburg who could think at all and who realized the dilemma that Shaffer was in, that there was every reason in the world for believing that he would delay the strike order to the last in the hope of a miracle that would save him and the "union" from disaster. at McKeesport, where the union men have been said for a week and more to be eager for a strike, the steel workers were skeptical when they heard that the order had gone forth.

They refused at first to believe it in the face of Shaffer's statement that he would first serve notice on the interested companies. What every one wants to know now is how Shaffer came to issue the order so suddenly. It was known yesterday that he had been empowered to issue it on Friday night, to take effect at the same time as is now fixed, but it is to be supposed that he obtained the consent of the Amalgamated Executive Committee to anticipate. Shaffer's reasons are not forthcoming. It is concluded, however, that district and lodge presidents reported to Shaffer that the men already on strike were getting restive, that the defections from the strikers' ranks at Wellsville were having a bad effect, and that the talk that the order would be delayed and perhaps not issued at all was demoralizing the actual and prospective strikers. Shaffer, it is supposed, then issued the order in sheer desperation, taking a short cut through the difficulties in which he had involved himself and the "union" by his "aggressive di-plomacy" and his backing and filling.

So strong was the kick against his vacillation that no other course was left and he finally decided it was best to "go down fighting," as he said last week. The text of his strike order is typical of the preacher.

NEWS FROM THE FIELD OF CAPITAL.

It has been pointed out from time to time, in this column that there was a movement afoot to consolidate the coal mining industries of various states.

It appears from the news from the Field, of Capital for the week ending Saturday, August 10th, that this move-ment has now assumed national proportions; and that it is being promoted by methods peculiar to capitalist and capiputalism-methods that are not wholly scrupulous, to say the least. If practised Ly a trade union, those methods would cause that trade union to be denounced as "initical to the progress of the com-munity," "coercive," "destructive of the rights of the individual and of property," etc., etc. But, as the greatest capitalists of the country are interested no one has as yet entered a protest or questioned the legality of the proceedings.

According to rumors in financial circles,
J. P. Morgan and his associates are formwhich it is intended shall embrace and include the minor toal trusts already organized in the various states. This intention has met a temporary set-back in the refusal of certain mine owners in Indiana to sell their properties for less than what is termed by the Morgan interests exorbitant prices.

To overcome this obstacle, the promotrs of the national $300,000,000 coa trust have issued an ultimatum to the is stated that if the minor trust does not become a part of the larger organization before winter, the latter will ship the products of the miners of West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Kentucky into the Indiana market and undersell Indiana miners until they are either forced to accept the prices offered for their properties or are ruined. These tactics are not new. They have been and are being resorted to in other states with the same end in view. Says Seymour Bell, the British Commercial Agent in the United States, in the course of a report on the coal and coke trade of America:

"Morgan and Vanderbilt and the Penn sylvania Coal interests appear to be trying to coerce other coal interests not owning railroads, particularly those of the Ohio coal fields, and prevent them from selling at a lower price than railroads that work coal mines, by denving to them transportation facilities except upon their own terms. Federal laws forbid discrimination in rates, but it is an accepted fact that rebates are allowed to the large trusts and coal opertors sylvania and elsewhere there is no doubt hat the Morgan interests which are also riendly to the roads concerned.' Having won by such methods in Penn-eart of the great railroad consolidation, will win also in Indiana. The control of the fuel supply, in fact, all supplies of the country, has become necessary to the protection and preservation of the great capitalists interests of the country, now more closely allied than ever before. By controlling supplies, or in more exact terms, the natural re sources of the country, competitors are eliminated at the outset: they have nothing with which to start no matter how great their possession of other capital

Among the other important news of the week from the Field of Capital was the formation of a $300,000,000 soft coal consolidation by E. H. Gary and his as-sociates. Whether this consolidation is the same as that in which Morgan is in-terested, or that in which Morgan is interested, or whether it is another one is not clear.

The Brass Trust absorbed more con panies in Connecticut. A combination of Baltimore Brewers was incorporated as the Gottlieb-Schmid-Strauss Company, with a capital of $5,000,000. 9 prodigious undertaking, to be known as the National Wholesale Grocery pany, with a capital of $100,000,000, was also announced. The plan is to combine ten per cent., or 270 of the wholesale grocery concerns of this country into a trust. This company and the one to organize the retail grocers of Philadel phia, will create an economic revolution in the grocery business. A project is afoot to consolidate the passenger steamship lines on Lake Michigan. The plan will be consummated at the end of the excursion season. Finally, the Goulds have secured control of the Mexican National and the Mexican International Railroads. This will give their system of railroads-the Missouri Pacific-ar outlet to the Pacific Coast, as well as an entrance into Mexico, toward which the capitalists of this country are now turning their attention.

WEAVERS' ASSESSMENT BURDEN Beginning to Make Trouble in Paterson Silk Strike.

One hundred and fifty-four ribbon weavers in the Johnson & Cowdin mill in Paterson, N.J., returned to their looms yesterday morning. They quit work Thursday afternoon, and the report spread that it was the beginning of a general strike among all the silk-worker of the city, but it developed that the Johnson & Cowdin weavers quit because six of their fellow workmen refused to pay the assessment of 10 per cent, which has been imposed by the unions for the support of the strikers in other mills. Johnson & Cowdin mill has been giving at every pay pay to the "unions," but some of the workers said they would no longer pay, and remained at work when the other weavers left the mill. As soon as the weavers quit work, committees from the "unions" asked Superintendent Schmutz to discharge the men_who would not pay the assessment. He re-fused, saying he had no fault to find with their work. The committee finally induced the men to consent to pay.

The strikes now in progress are maintained by assessments on those who are working, and this refusal to pay is regarded by the manufacturers as the first sign of a break, which they say is bound to come before long, as many of the operatives are grumbling over long-continued assessments enforced by the "unions"

A DAMAGING CONFESSION.

The capitalists who are back of the Steel Strike and those into whose stocks the strike is eating, or, to use Stock Exchange parlance, both the "bears" and the "bulls," are indulging just now in odd language. They are talking about a strike

"that will deprive an indeterminate wages, and bring privation to a great many homes."

What, "privation" after only a few weeks' abstinence from work !? Then after all, it is true that American Labor is but a few days removed from the Poor House ? Accordingly, all the high-sound ing phrases about the "large earnings" of the American workingmen were so much buncombe, and all the statistical tables "showing" them to be the depositors of billions of dollars in savings banks are so many forgeries ?

Old is the warning to place no trust in him who "blows hot and cold." Out of their own mouths the spokesmen for capm stand convicted of mendacity. Either they lie now, or they then: billions in the save banks and privation swiftly following a strike do not go together. This would suffice to throw the gentlemen out of court. But this were not punishment enough. Before throwing them out as unreliable witnesses they must be thrashed as double-dyed fal ifiers. It has been again and again proven, from the very figures furnished by the official statisticians, that the "billions of savings" imputed to the workingmen do not belong to the workingmen, but belong to the middle class and to classes that are parasites on the capitalist class. m reports innumerable the fact has stood out clear that all the allegations about increased earnings, set affoat by capitalist sources and retailed by the Labor Lieutenants of the capitalists, are pure fabrications, and it was shown that they could not be other than fabrications: absolutely and relatively, the earnings of the working class have declined. The masses of the workers are poorer to-day than they were a generation ago. The present lamentations of the capitalists on the score of the privations that stare the Steel Strikers in the face raise a monumental commentary on the first of things. That industry, that has risen to the highest pinnacle of distinction, that has centered the highest wealth in itself, that stands defiant of international competition, and whose chiefs scatter millions in "bounties" with a profusion that dazzles the eyes of the world, that industry, according to the testimony of the capitalist press itself, rests upon the backs of men only a few days wed from the Poor House; they have toiled and delved, in many departments stripped to the waist, and in all the departments under atmospheric conditions of heat and dust that consume life, yet all that notwithstanding, while the idle "directors." "President and Vice-Presidents," stockholders and stockjobbers are scattering around in luxurious living and ostentatious bounty the wealth produced by these workers, the workers themselves, as a matter of fact, remain in such close struggle with the wolf at

It needed not this strike to know th fact. What the strike has accomplished is to bring it out as damaging confession their doors, that the instant they lay down their tools, the wolf leaps across r threshold, and privation jumps at the robber class itself. And such is the plight that Capitalism and its Organized Scabbery or Labor Fakirs have brought these wretched men to.

ANOTHER INDICTMENT.

Now that the case of the Kangaroo Social Democrat Morris Eichmann, of Hoboken, N. J., can be said to be settled, in that the indictment brought by THE PEOI LE against the gentleman's and his precious party's political corruption has been nailed so fast on their foreheads that even they have desisted from the attempt to shake it off, it is time to nail another indictment on that scurvy crew. This will be done in the same way, docu-mentarily. It will be remembered that in the spring of the year THE PEOPLE charged the said Kangaroo Social Democrat, Morris Eichmann, with having accepted the nomination of the three capitalist parties-Republican, Democratic and "Citizens' Union"-for the same office for which his own party had nominated him, to wit, Justice of the Peace, and that he, a member of a party that claimed to represent the interests of the workers and to stand upon the class struggle, exemplified the purity of his political conduct by running simultaneously on the "anti-capitalist and Labor" ticket of the Social Democracy and on the pro-capitalist tickets of the Labor fleecing and shooting Republicans, Democrats and "Citizens." It will be further remembered that THE PEOPLE announced at the time that the official documents proving the charge were at this office for inspection. The yells of "lies." "liars." "scab." etc., etc., rose wild, as will be remembered, from the Kangaroo Social Democratic camp, and sundry other doublings and twistings were indulged in, but the yells gradually subsided and the doublings and twistings gradually fell into catalepsy: so many were the people who availed themselves of the offer to inspect for themselves the documents in this office and who must have given square pieces of their minds to the "Volkszeitung" and its poodle, "The Worker," that even these lumps of turpitude had to cave in as they did. We shall now have history repeat itself. Before us lies "Public Document No.

43" of the State of Massachusetts. It is entitled "Number of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted in each Voting Preciact at the State, City and Town Elections, Together with the Number of Votes received by Bach Candidate for a State Office in the year 1900." On page 226, under the caption "Representatives in the General Court I that is, the Massachusetts Legislature]. Worcester County, Continued," there appears this entry:

"Frederick W. Bateman of Harvard, Republican, 865.

John C. Smith of Fitchburg, Democratic Social, Democratic, 437.

The Kangaroo Social Democratic John C. Smith, for Worcester County, Mass., true to the Armory building and corrupt political practices of his party, stood on the ballot as the nominee of both his own and the Labor fleecing and shooting Democratic party.

Now let the Kangaroo Social Democratic fugleman yell "lies," "liar," "scab," and start in, as in the case of Elchmann, to resort to their usual threecard monte game. It is a fit prelude for the whipped whelp hole into which they regularly and fitly land under the cowhide of the Socialist Labor Party and the Socialist Trade & Labor Alliance.

MODERN MEXICO.

A news item recently appeared in these columns, and in other papers too, that ran thus:

As a result of the strike of engineers on the Mexican International Railroad, President Diaz has issued strict orders. prohibiting strikes in the Republic and proffering Government aid if necessary o break any further strikes like that of the engineers. In return the railroad management has promised not to re-employ any of the strikers.

These few lines tell more completely the tale of recent developments in Mexico, and betray that-country's actual social stage more accurately than all the essays, syndicated and otherwise, that periodically sprout forth on the "Land of the Montezumas." It is incomparably more full of information than the essay on Mexico that appeared this January among that remarkable serial on the 19th Century. Indeed, that essay was, compared with this short news item, mere tinsel and hollow sound.

The news item simply records two facts. What lies back of them? This: That at some previous time the Railroad Company, having a strike on hand, got Government troops to help it out; that, the strike being sonelched, the Company made its peace with the strikers, reinstated them, of course on the Company's terms, soothed their lacerated feelings with capitalist taffy, and allowed the resentment of the strikers to be turned and vent itself against the Government.

To guard against this, the Government now engages, on its part, to prevent strikes, but exacts from the Com-seem to be a plain case of capitalist logrolling. Log-rolling it is; but it is not capitalist log-rolling. What does it mean?

During the last twenty years there has been such an in-pouring of American capital into Mexico that the impression is prevalent that Mexico has been suctioned into the sisterhood of capitalist nations. That she eventually will be is undoubted, unless headed off by the Social Revolution. That she is not yet, the above news item denotes; and it furthermore denotes that the feature of Mexican development, just now, is a struggle, on the one hand, between the old feudal clement that wrenched Mexico from Spain, in the first instance, and subsequently cast off the stockjobbers' domination that the Third Napoleon sought to fasten upon her, and, on the other hand, the upstart capitalist element, partly made up of foreigners and partly of smaller holders of land. The former holds the reins of Government; the latter is growing, as capitalism has always done under such circumstances, like the underbrush in the shadow of the tall trees, that it undersaps and eventually causes to crumble down. In the progress of this process of capitalist undersapping, the feudal ruling class of Mexico has experienced the effect upon it of the capitalist dealings with that portion of the country that, to the feudal land-holders, are essential as "peons," and which to the capitalists are essential as proletarians. This peon-proletarian element naturally gravitates away from the feudal lord and under capitalist domination. The feudal Government of Mexico seeks to check this tendency, if not to stop it altogether. The method it has adopted is to deprive the capitalists of a means of "becoming solid" with the peon-proletarian element at the expense of the ruling feudal class.

A hightly interesting course of a denig variation to the gradations through ism rises.

WEALTH-SWEATING CAPITAL. ISTS.

Would anyone like to gauge the average intelligence, on an international scale, of the capitalist intellectuals on the social economic question? Then let him turn to the New York "Evening Post." The rest of the press, whether American or European, is, of course, capitalist as much as the "Post," nevertheless whatever the circulation and general standing of this, that, or the other paper may be, the "Post" enjoys a unique "editorial" position internationally. In England as in America, it is looked upon by the capitalist world as the most intellectu al of their journalistic productions, and the best capitalist dialectician. The way it is quoted by such continenal writers as Leroy-Beaulieu shows that the Continent shares the opinion of Capitalist England and America. The "Post" is the best gauge of the average international capitalist intellect. Now, then, what says the "Post" concerning a leading corollary of the irrefutable Socialist principle that the capitalist is a parasite, pure and simple, doing no manner of work, therefore producing nothing, yet living on the fat of the land? This is the "argument" in refutation:

"All Socialist ideals are included in the ambition to despoil the capitalist. He is to pay everything. Who is to pay wher the capitalist is finally abolished no Socialist ventures to predict."

In other words:

"The ambition of the robbed is to deshould stay their silly hands. Let them consider that when the robber is finally abolished, the robbed could no longer pay their bills."

That is the best capitalist dialectics can produce. And that is one of the lusclous fruits of the capitalist intellect!

Implied in the "Post's" dialectics is a theory of economics" not less choice than the above "reasoning:"

If the final abolition of the capitalist is tantamount to a suspension of wealth production, the ineviable conclusion would be the economic theory that wealth is not the product of labor, but the spontaneous outgrowth of idleness; in short, that the genus capitalist is a wealthsweater.

It were hard to determine which of the two-whether the "Post's" dialectics or its" theory of economics"—the dunce's cap should be awarded to.

That cap gives the measure of the average intelligence of the Social Question possessed by the capitalist intellectu-

Who will deny that, in the conflict between the two armies that are now organizing and drawing up against each other-one having such a dunce's-cap emblazoned on its banner, the banner of the other bearing the device "Labor Alone Produces All Wealth"-the former is bound to be annihilated, while the latter will triumphautly lead the race?

THE BUGABOO OF BOSSISM.

It is not from the moral point only that the "Good Government" municipal brigade is despicable; it is equally so from the intellectual view point. As the pany a pledge NOT TO RE-EMPLOY municipal campaign approaches, the cry about,

ANY OF THE STRIKERS. This may of "Bossism" increases, raised from that quarter. The cry has now reached the cartoen and the anecdote stage.

An anecdote now set in circulation is to the effect that an Italian who ap pled to a Judge for naturalization papers, and who was asked who made the laws of New York, answered promptly and with much candor: "Dicka Da Croka." A leading carteon in the same line represents Dick Croker to the right standing arms a-kimbo, a crown on his head and an ermine mantle on his shoulders. The ground on which he stands is marked England; and behind him is a poster inscribed "Wantage." At the other end of the picture, on ground marked "United States-New York," is a dove-cote with the inscription "Tammany Hall." Up in the air, and flying from the direction of Croker in Wantage, England, to Tammany Hall, New York, is the Tammany leader Carroll, in the shape of a carrier-pigeon, carrying, fastened to a leg, a slate purporting to Henry Mayers Hyndman be placed upon contain the municipal candidates whom King Croker has dictated for Tammany tion, and answer in death the good purto adopt. Carroll is carrying the orders of "Boss" to the "Bossed." Both anecdote and cartoon mark the "Good Govermnent" intellectuals moral and intellectual bankrupts.

They are intellectual bankrupts, inasmuch as the natural inference that a thinking man would draw from their anecdotes and cartoons is just the reverse of what they are constantly claiming. They are constantly claiming that Croker is a dullard and ignoramus, and that Tammany Hall consists of bleeting sheep. Now then, the cartoon in question, for instance, is a high encomium on Croker, and, by inference, quite creditable to Tammany Hall: If indeed, arms-a-kimbo, a man can, from such great distance and without physical power to enforce his behests, dictate to a large body, that man must have great velopment this of Mexico promises to be. It certainly will furnish a fascinatit takes no slight degree of intellect and which landlordism declines and capital of moral elevation for a large body to appreciate such a portent and accept his decrees. The cartoon amounts to a panegyric of Croker and his men, from the "Good Government" gentry who decry both.

On the other hand, these gentry record their own moral bankruptey in what is an obvious attempt to conceal the real source of Croker's power, seeing that, to reveal that, would be to uncover themselves: There is no mysticism about l'ammany Hall. It is a hard matter-offact concern. Its members want a living without work, and in brigand style they avail themselves of the jungles of that singleness of purpose: ditto, ditto portion of Socialist tenets that may be ment" folks, only that they have less intelligence than the Tammany Hall band of brigands: these recognize the need of one-man power for the success of their felonious purpose, and evolve such out of their own midst, while the "Good Government" gang, being honey-combed with would-be Crokers, whom in their hearts they admire and would be only too glad to emulate, work at cross purposes, each trying to be the Croker, and thus are unsuccessful as organizers, with the final result that the well organized set of Tammany brigands gets the best of the rabble of "Good Governmenters" every time,-accidents, of course, excepted.

When the "Good Government" gentlemen howl "Bossism," what they mean each individual howler-is to get a of a capitalist government; and so chance to plunder the public crib for his own benefit, and to the exclusion of bit of Utopianism that he acted like a spoil the robber, but the silly robbed his helpers. Hence it happens that these should stay their silly hands. Let them reformers have regularly gone to pieces every time accident get them into power.

> Reports from various parts of country show that the Socialist Labor Party has opened up its campaign in good style. Its speakers have taken to the street corners again, and there is plenty of material in new illustrations, they are making it hot for the capitalist defenders. Two national organizers are at work all the time, and several states have men busily employed. Then there is an unusual demand for speakers in the different localities. Those men who have not yet taken the platform should commence now. This is the season to break in, so that by the closing mouths of the campaign there will be no trouble over a lack of speakers. The proper method is to fix upon a subject, study it in all possible bearings, work out your argument, and find good, apt points with which to allustrate it. Focus everything upon your theme. Do not try to cover too much ground. The field is so large that there is a tendency to ramble all over it. That has a bad effect. An audience will not be held by random comments on innumerable events. It is far better to speak to one point for ten minutes than to speak to a dozen for an hour. There are plenty of subjects for speeches, and the party members should prime themselves up, get into the movement, and help the

> "Justice," the organ of the Single Taxers of Delaware, rejoices over the fact that the Countess of Warwick has recommended all workingmen to read Krapot-kin and Henry George. "Justice" says this is worthy recognition, because George had "more in common with Kraotkin and Tolstoy than with Marx an Engels." That is right. What he had in common with them was the fact that he did not know what he was talking

NO CAUSE FOR GRIEF.

News comes from England that H. M. Hyndman, long the leader of the Social Democratic Federation, has withdrawn from the organization and given up "English Socialism" as a failure. It might be safer to await official confirmation of the announcement. Nevertheless, two circumstances combine to render the news item trustworthy: first, our knowledge of Hyndman and his organization, as portrayed in these columns more than once, and the further circumstance that the item places in quotation marks the reasons given by Hyndman for his action, to wit:

"The working class are not sufficiently penetrated with class-consciousness and class antaganism to make an effective revolutionary propanganda possible."

Not slight is the value of corpses in the health-promoting study of the human body. Let the Socialistic corpse named the dissecting table of the Social Quespose that there was not in it to answer in life.

It is a common thing with people of narrow horizon to impute exclusive features to occurrences that happen in their own immediate neighborhood. Villagers, suffering from the pest of gossip, are often heard to say that there is no place like their particular village for backbiting; uninformed workingmen are frequently heard to say that the make-up of their particular craft is "peculiar": Jingoes assert that patriotism is a native product of their particular native heath. This is all false. Back-biting is a universal affliction of small communities or ecteries; machinery has wiped away former "peculiarities" of individual craftsmen; patriotism, both in the good and the bad sense, is a native growth wherever man is. And so with Socialism. It is not "English Socialism," as Hyndman calls the thing, that is "a failure." What is a failure is a thing not at all peculiar to England; it is a thing that grows spontaneously out of the Utopian mind. and as such minds are not the exceptional bane of any one country but afflict all, "English Socialism," so-called, is an article that turns up everywhere, everywhere is a nuisance, and everywhere is Utopianism in Socialism is a term that to-day, with the ripened experience of the militants, is no longer circumscribed to the limits it had when Engles wrote about it. Since then a number of specimens have come under observation who theoretically offer not a flaw in their capitalism to organize themselves with economies, age, even in that important are the purposes of the "Good Govern- termed its sociology. Their theories are sound as a bell on "surplus value," its source and what it leads to: and the term "class struggle" is written of by them with elegance and eloquence.-But only written of. In practice all their preachings go by the board. The matter with these people is that they lack the intellectual fibre, usually also the physical fibre, requisite for consistency, and concrete application. They eschew the struggle; they are logomachists. Of this genus Hyndman is a specimen. The writer and talker, down to these

his last utterances, about "class consciousness" and "class antagonism" was one of those who, not quite 12 months ago, supported the Kautsky resolution. declaring the possibility of "impartiality" towards the working class on the part zealous was he in his support of that boer towards the delegation of the S. L. P., which took firm ground against the resolution; he went even so far on that occasion as to try, though unsuccessfully, to arrogate to himself the right to cast the vote of the sturdy Irish delegation.

No wonder Hyndman has found out that sort of "Socialism" to be a failure; he is not the first, nor will he be the Two national organizers are last. Nor is it any wonder to hear him now throw, as he does, the blame of his own pusillanimity upon the working class. It is ever so with the gentry whose "class struggle" is on their lips, and who throw up the sponge after some years of inevitable failure in the attempt to throw down the battlements of capitalism with fine-spun phrases, rhetoric and posing.

The Celtic, which arrived in New York ast Sunday, is the greatest thing affoat. Her tongage is 20,880 gross, and she is 700 feet long, 75 feet beam, and 40 feet deep. She is a fair physical representa tion of modern capitalism. It would not be sense to try to run her down with a birch-back canoe, nor will it be sane to try to hold her back, when under steam, with a top string. Yet that is the equivalant of what the pure and simple unions are doing when they fight capi-tal with "capital." They have their bark canoe, and it was once good. day it is the coffin of the man who hopes to win a battle in it.

Two more men have met their death in the construction of the Frick building, in Pittsburg. This makes a total of seven killed, and many injured. The vorkingmen are talking about the building being "hoodooed." So is every building that is put up under present condi-tions. The hoodoo is capitalism, and the only way to break it is to abolish it. I ished trade in tacks.

LO. THE WHIPPED V H :LPS!

Readers of THE PEOPLE will surely be desirous of knowing what answer did the "Volkszeitung" and its English weekly edition, "The Worker," make to the complete and crushing rejutation of their false report, concerning the conduct of the Alliaucemen at the Sprague strike, by the Sprague strikers themselves. Some of our readers, not yet knowing the Kangaroos as well as we, expected a retraction, and admission of error. Well, as to the "Volkszeitung," it has uttered not a sound since. Relying upon the dallness of its standbys, and that they are impervious to information from the outside, it pulled in its head, drew its tail between its legs, and, like a cur, "lay low"; but it had its poodle, "The Worker," make an answer. Here it is in full as printed in its issue of August

"JUDGE FOR YOURSELVES." "The organ of the S. L. P. and S. T. & L. A. publishes a statement, purporting o bear the signatures of a considerable number of men in the Sprague Electrical Works of East Orange, N. J., denying all he allegations about the conduct of the Alliance in the late strike there, as published in The Worker of July 21.

"Our information was derived from what we believed and still believe to be credible sources. The reason why we cannot publish a rebuttal with a list of signatures appended was explained in the original article. That reason is, as there stated, that the firm has forbidden disussion or criticism of the strike settlement and has power to punish any who openly disobey its command. It is easy to get signatures to a statement of which the employers approve, but not so easy to get signatures to a statement injurious to them. In the nature of the case, we can present no further evidence without breach of faith.

"The question has now become, theresimple question of veracity fore, a tween The Worker and the organ of the & L. A. We believe that in all essential points our statement was cor-We cheerfully leave it to our readers to judge by the past conduct of papers, which better deserves be-And we leave it to the thousands of machinists, eigarmakers, and others who, although they knew nothing directly of this case, have in other cases, had personal experience of the peculiar policy of the S. T. & L. A. as led by Mr. De Loon and as executed party by Mr. Hick ey, to judge whether our statements were not highly probable.

Completely exposed, its every charge sailed, "The Worker" comes out with naticd. this whipped whelp's whine.

It takes a man to admit he made a mistake, and retract; but neither would a man sit down and fabricate falsehood as the "volkszeitung" and "The Worker" Consequently, to expect a correction from such sources was to look for flowers in the ditch. These organs of the Or ganized Scabbery, discredited all around; their dirty pets among the eigarmakers and other unions thrashed right and left; they have no weapons but calumny. And their cause being of the vilest, known to them to be so, they justly respect it so little that they care not what filthy weap ons they use in its defence, or what dis-grace they bring upon themselves.

It is a positive misfortune that the cause of "pure and simpledom" fell into such hands as the "Volkszeitung" and "Worker." A decent discussion becomes impossible. It is calumny, backed by blackguardism, that they resort to as their only argument. There is nothing to do but smite them hard, and crush them ont as one would centipedes.

Let the "answer" be read carefully. Let the picture of the doubling cowards, drawn by themselves in that "answer," sink deep in the readers' minds; and let also the brazen impadence of the thrice and thrice again nailed scabby lin.s not escape, with which, in desperado style, they seek protection from their own past and notoriously infamous conduct. in fine, the answer serve as a touchstone for decency: He, whose whole does not revolt thereat. is not worth a decent man's consideration.

Mr. Martin Fox of the Iron Moulders' Union has won for himself a place as the chief strike breaker in the country. There has not been a strike among the nolders for some time that he did not settle to his own satisfaction, and to the dissatisfaction of the men. America, but none more bitter than the fact that America is slowly but surely taking is tack trade away from it. For several years Austria has been secure in the Oriental market, and tacks, carpet tacks, brass head d tacks, tacks for straw matting, and it is safe to say, tacks for bieyele penetures, were a state matter. They were produced cheaply by poorly paid workingmen. Now America steps in, and takes that tack trade away. The Consul-General at Vienna writes that the matter has aroused the country, and that America would do well to be on its guard. She can produce tacks for the Levant, India, and Japan at prices beyond Austria, and the business is worth pushing. Still care must be taken. Uncle Sam and Brother Jonathan

UNCLE SAM-Look at the holy show the capitalist parties are making of themsleves!

BROTHER JONATHAN - That the capitalist parties are in a bad plight no intelligent man will dispute. So far I agree with you. But I can't follow you when you throw your lot among the workingmen. 'The capitalist class may be, no doubt is, bad enough; but the workingmen are worse yet.

U. S .- Worse? B. J.-Certainly. They are despicable; they are valgar, corrupt, stupid; in word, they are rotten. S .- That's strong language, and, what's worse, unjust.

B. J.-I know you think differently of them. But, if you knew them as I do, you would think differently. U. S.-I do know them. B. J.-No, you don't. You know them only theoretically. If you were a manu facturer, like myself, having to deal directly with, and in that way having a practical knowledge of them, you would think of them as I do. U. S .- Do you mean to say that you come directly in contact with your workingmen and that your practical knowledge of them justifies your opinion of their being a rotten lot? Do you really come in such direct contact with your employees? From all that I know you B. J.-Well, I don't know every em-

U. S .- Do you meet any?

B. J .- I meet the officers they send to me. U. S.—Are there any of your employees dect touch with your workingmen, and surely cannot form an opinion as to their being a "rotten lot" or not. B. J .- But I have enough to do with their representatives. Am I not justified to judge of the men by the class of people they choose to represent them before me?

U. S .- It is these representatives, then, that you consider rotten?

B. J.-Yes, they are. You know nothing of them. Let me tell you. Thegetellows the officers, set the men on a strike and then they come to me with proposals to "settle." Sometimes I yield for the sake of peace and give these officers the bribe they hint at; other times I don't. But is not such conduct

U. S .- Certainly.

B. J.-Then, again these officers come as committees making certain demands. They start to bluff and bully, show such crass ignorance and viciousness that you cel like kicking them out at first; but all you have to do is to humor them a little; they are easily flattered; and be fore you know it they give up their emands. What do you call that?

U. S.-Rotten, no doubt. B. J.-That's

S.-Now, Jonathan, you make the mistake of your life when you judge your employees, the rank and file of the working class, by these officers. fellows are as corrupt as hell, as ignorant as blocks, as dull, vicious and perverse as it is possible for men to be. That is all true as to them, but it is all faise as to the rank and file.

B. J.-But they elect these corrupt and rotten officers.

U. S .- Yes, but not in endorsement of their rottenness. They do so out of misplaced confidence. Your opinion is a justification of the policy of war that Socialism and New Trade Unionism pursue against these officers. They are the labor fakirs. Among the evil they have done, that of placing the working class in such a bad plight is not the least. The rank and file is pure and decent. When it becomes known and leaders; try and become acquainted with the rank and file. You will soon have rotten leaders out fast. Mr. Shaffer, who has been leading the steel strike, has shown himself to be a thorough craven. His first large bluff was called by the trust, and he threw up his hand. His second bluff, that of tying up all the mills, is called by the fret that he does not control the mills. On each occasion he tried to wheedle a little crumb out of the Trust so that he could go back to the strikers and boast of what he had won. But he has been arlowed to boast of nothing. He is the most thoroughly discredited "strike leadr" in America to-day, and it will require the united endeavor of the Brotherhood of Amalgamated Labor Fakirs to retain him in his position. The fact that he still stays is a direct insult to the intelagence of the steel workers.

I believe the election of W. J. Bryan would have been a good thing for the working class. He favored the establishment of a Department of Labor. Would not that have been a big help to us? Gifts to Labor from Capitalist sources are "Greek gifts." The "Industrial Commission" has turned out a fresh source of corruption. It is in asylum for the Labor Fakir. So would any other "Department kir. So would suy other "Department of Labor" filled by capitalist politicians. Whoever stands on a platform that de-nies the abolition of the wage system of slavery is an arm of capitalism. The fits Bryan. Labor does not oppose Trusts,

The statement implies that he was fought by "all the capitalists." This is not true. Bryan was fought by SOME capitalists, while other capitalists fought McKinley tooth and nail, and tooth and nail fought for Bryan. To THE PEOPLE—I have been traveling westward, "touring" from Texas to California. The Socialist Labor Party is the only LIVE Socialist organization here in Los Angeles. News From Holyoke, Mass.

To THE PEOPLE.—That there only one step from the sublime to the ridiculous is aptly demonstrated in our ocal labor world here at present. The movement of organized promised such good results early summer, has been run into a which chaotic state by the ignorant and selfish schemers who are at the head of it at present. There was a boycott levied against the summer resort (Mountain Park) the Holyoke Street Railroad Company, because the three firemen at the power refused to join the firemen's union, although they received the same wages and had the same hours as did the other firemen. The boycott proved a partial failure; so, instead of gaining dom by experience, the mule of ignorance cropped out and the boy-cott was extended to the main lines of the company and all good unionmen were expected to abstain from riding on the cars except during the hours of 6 in the morning and 5 to 8 in the evening. This edict has brought much inconven-ience to people who were otherwise well much ill feeling is thereby created. Of course the enemies of labor do what they can to stir up matters to such an extent that one hears nothing else now but discussions on strikes, boycott, etc

The leaders of the boycott have right along maintained the argument that President Loomis of the Street Railroad Company was the whole trouble in pre-venting his employes under threat of discharge from employment. Mr. Loomis, having claimed otherwise, the matter was finally tesed last Saturday night when all the conductors and motormen were invited to take a secret ballot as to whether they wanted to unionize or The vote resulted in 104 against,

Instead of profiting once more by ex-perience, the Central Labor Union at its Sunday meeting voted to make the boycott more stringen ere stringent and to "fight capby hiring busses to convey people back and forth in oppos-ition to the electric cars. This insane thing is likely to be extended long enough elections when the political finish will be given to this farce-comedy Of course, every good union man will then be expected to vote for the enemies of President Loomis whom the boycott lenders will surely name themselves.

And who are these leaders? The Pres-dent is T. J. O'Connor, a young man and late aspirant for city clerkship on the for three years appointed by Mayor Chapin, Rep. The Secretary is Edward Dowd, a bricklayer and at present Democratic Alderman for two years. There are two more Democratic Aldermen, of the Central Labor Union and they have quite a following of supporters and hangers-on. Thus it is seen that the forecast is by no means an idle speculation.

Rev. Putty-Cheeks on the Pacific Slope.

To THE PEOPLE.-The religio-politico-labor fraud and parasite, the Rev. Charles H. Vail of New Jersey, delivered a lecture in San Jose on Monday night July 21st.

Notwithstanding the fact that "Reverend" was well advertised in the daily press and heralded on flaming posters as "the distinguished orator," "national organizer of the Social Democratic party," the Assembly Hall in the Sleeper's Building was about half-filled with an audience of about 150 people, there being a fair sprinkling of workers; the rest were made up of "Appeal to meason" "Socialists," small traders and Kangaroos.

The "Reverend" was a study in sleekiness and fat reminding one strongly of a well fed ministerial parasite. countenace is not an honest one, bearing the unmistakable stamp of the pulpiteer demagogue, in fact he being in some respects a fit co-worker with the Rev. "Job" Harriman, as the nature and character of of his actions during the meeting well illustrated. The chairman of the meeting was the young ex-Reverend F. C. Malk mes, who Kangarooed clinging to the coast tails of "Job" in his precipitous exit out of the party.

The Acy. C. H. Vail became uneasy on seeing several red buttons in the audience and before commencing his dis-"Socialism" he occasionally cast a furtive glance at a red button a comrade was wearing who sat directly in front of him, seeming to realize he was soon to feel the force of the Arm and Hammer which he had learned to respect on numerous former occasions.

The fun commenced with "questions." Comrade E. B. Mercadier, taking the floor, asked: "How do you reconcile the position you assume that the S. D. P. is n class-conscious revolutionary movement when in the face of cold hard facts your party makes political bargains with the Republican and Democratic parties as well as permits its members to accept office from the capitalist class?" 'The "Reverend" turned to the chairman and then to the questioner and remarked "would the gentleman ask a question instead of making a speech?" The comrade quickly retorted: call the action of Carey, a shining light of your party, who is a member of the Common Council of Haverhill, Mass., and who voted to appropriate $15,000 for armory purposes, the act of a Socialist or that of a representative of the capitalist class? Now, do not dodge the question." The "Reverend" refused to answer the question stating that as National Organizer of the S. D. P., it was his business to make "Socihlists" (? ? ?) and not to discuss "tac-(Applause from the Kangaroos tics. which is followed by hisses.) Mercadier replied: "You have been following these tactics in the East"-the "Reverend nodding an approval and a jesuitical smile parting his chubby cheeks. dare not answer the question," the comrade. This started the Kangs, some of them rising from their seats yelling: "Mr. Chairman, he came here to disturb the meeting." "Throw him out!" shouted one by the name of Hartman, who is an adept at cleansing spittoons and performing other dirty work for the S. D. P. The commotion raised by the Mangs was drowned in hisses at their actions and the cowardice displayed by the speaker in refusing to answer the questions. Comrade E. E. Rouner rose and asked: "How many Social Democratic parties are there?" The "artful dodger" again refused to answer the question, he remarking that "they will all be united after the 29th of July." (? ? ?)

Comrade Louis Zimmer followed next with the question: "Are not Socialists when elected to office expected to pracwhat they preach: unpardonable ignorance or guilty of being a deliberate falsifier.

"Yes, but some do not, as in one in-tance in Bellville, Illinois, where a Socialist has been elected thrice in succession and this Socialist constantly acquiesces with the capitalists." The Rev. Chas. H. Vail must be aware of the fact that Lami, the Socialist referred to who is a member of the S. L. P., was unlawfully expelled from the Common Council in Bellville, Ill, for being too zealous in exposing the foul schemes which the representatives of the capitalist class, including the city at-torney, were endeavoring to foist upon the public. Being unlawfully expelled and as a tribute to his staunch stand against the capitalist class he was renomnated by the S. L. P., and elected and has since, if I mistake not, been re-elected. A comrade attempted to deny the false statement of the "Reverend's," but was refused a bearing.

Following this the floor was thrown open to five minute remarks by non-mempers. The chairman in his announcement stating that all those who cared to speak in favor of Socialism could take the platform. Comrade Mercadier responded to this invitation and said:

"Mr. Chairman, workingmen and workngwomen, In all meetings held under the auspices of the Socialist Labor party we never refuse to entertain a question on Socialism, including 'tactics.' No sooner had he said this when up jumped the chairman and the "Reverend," the chairman interrupting him with the remark:

"We will not permit any discussion relative to any difference between the two parties as to tactics."

"Then you refuse to permit me to pro-platform. The audience manifested its disapproval in various ways, some hissing, some murmuring "that isn't fair." wade a voice in the rear end of the hal was heard to say: "You're a pack of cowards." This again excited and one of them threw a fit by hopping to the front of the stage, his arm and in dex finger extended in air and shouting like a Comanche Indian on the war path:

"Mr. Chairman, Mr. Chairman, this is an open meeting, but we bar all questions on tactics. Is it not so understood?" The chairman and the "Reverend" nodded approvingly.

To conclude the Kangaroos their sympathizers were highly incensed at being put to the expense of bringing "Reverend" to San Jose and not making any "Socialists" in return for heir investment. With all the worn-out "Reverends" in the S. D. P., it would not be amiss or appropriate to rename it the "Reverend Social Democratic party.' S. L. P. San Jose, Cal., July 27th.

True to Their Interests.

To THE PEOPLE-I should like to call the attention of the Socialist Labor Party members and the DAILY PEOPLE readers to the conduct of the Kangaroo Social Democrats in this section of the country. Bessemer, Ala. (a city of workers), has a branch of the Springfield, Mass., contingent located there. Koeple, a bartender, is the prime mover, in fact, he is the whole cheese in this State. The local is made up of men with middle class instincts generally, and of course it has, Social-Democratic like, its quota of lawyers.

One would think, that, being so far from the base of operations in Springfield, the rank and file of the branch would be earnest, class-conscious workingmen, but we find in them nothing akin to the stamina and backbone that so characterizes the militants of the S. L. P. when a traitor to his class is found in the ranks.

The last legslature of Alabama made an extra court circuit in Bessemer and appointed a judge for the same, leaving the appointment of the solicitor to the solicitor of this county (H. Heflin). Now it was a chance for some young rising lawyer of Bessemer to make a name for himself. Petitions for the appointment were many and varied, and among the applicants was B. F. Baxley, a member of the Social Democratic branch. Of course, he was supposed to know nothing about it, as certain members of the branch were attending to it for him. They were all very much crestfallen when he did not get the appointment as one of them remarked to me, it don't make much difference anyhow. was the solicitor; but that's the way you are treated wherever they find out you are a Socialist!!"

A lawyer named Estes got the place. He is an old-time Democrat, and not a bit "Social" either. So much for their pull with the captalist politicians. This is an elective office two years hence, so we expect to hear from him again. Another incident I shall mention worth notice. The Third Regiment of the Alabama Natonal Guard had its encampment in Birmingham last month The Bessemer Rifles are a part of this regiment, and went with its full complement of men, and among them was this would-be solicitor, Benjamin F. Baxley, member of the Social Democratic branch

I have mentioned these facts to some of the members of the S. D. P. branch The first happened last March, and the Sth of July, and they had ample time to suspend or expel the they lack the staming and backbone of the men in the Socialist Labor Party, whose TACTICS alone will free us from his capitalist system and its degrading influences. They "never withhold a blow at error lest we make an enemy."

To THE PEOPLE.-I believe that it must be a great deal of pleasure to the comrades when they read of other cities and towns being in the same fight as themselves, and it also encourages them to more activity in the cause that is dear to all good comrades. ·Here in Hamilton, Ont., the Party has been holding their regular Saturday night open air meetings since the first of May and you can bet we have had a good time with the pure and simpler, the labor fakir and the police. Holding the Fort Under Pike's Peak,

To THE PEOPLE,-Section Denver has had another experience with the police of this city, and again the police have come out second best. Comrades Wm. Fowler, Jr., and Chas. Mullein were arrested on the charge of "disturbing the peace," hauled down to the city jail and into the bull pen, but were detained only about twenty minutes, when they were released with no charges against them.

It happened in this way: At 7:45 p. m, on Sunday, the 4th instant, a number of the comrades repaired to the corner of Larimer and Sixteenth street, the identical position occupied by Comrade Mullein when arrested a few weeks ago. On the way, several "religious" groups were noticed, who blocked the sidewalk, but nevertheless were not molested by the police, showing conclusively that when the police interfere with the Socialist meetings it is because of the fear of spreading these doctrines and tactics.

On one corner of Sixteenth and Larimer streets was noticed a religionist who was deprecating the fact that we had lost our liberties, and who was telling his audience that this country was now passing through the experience of the Roman Empire, and so on ad nauseam. However. Comrade Fowler opened the meeting for the S. L. P., and had been talking about ten minutes when the police informed this religionist that he would have to stop his meeting, and this goody-goody, after telling his audience about losing their rights, instead of trying to maintain any that are now possessed by the people, meekly submitted to the dictates of the police, and broke up his meeting, which shows that parasites of this kind are doubly injurious to mankind, in so far as they preach submission and practice bloodsucking.

The comrades who witnessed this, expected the police to make a move against our meeting, and gathered closer about the stand. Sure enough' three officers soon made their way through the crowd and told Comrade Fowler to desist, and get down. But Comrade Fowler did not get down from the stand; he wanted to know what reason they had for asking him to get down. One officer spoke up and said, "Now, do as I tell you, and it will be best for all."

But something more definite than this was wanted, so the comrades told Comrade Fowler to ignore the request and to go on with his speech. Then a parley took place between Comrade Mullein and an officer and presently Comrade Mullein found himself under arrest, quickly followed by the arrest of Comrade Fowler, and while under arrest the comrades in turn addressed the crowd, whose sympathy was soon won. The patrol wagon arrived and soon the comrades were on their way to the city jail, after having promised, however, when released to rem to the same corner and to fini interrupted meeting. After being in the TO THE DAILY PEOPLE—I have hold-over about twenty minutes, the chief of police and a captain came down, had a talk with the comrades in which he stated that he did not want to interrupt or interfere with our meetings, but that we must keep the sidewalk open, which he was promptly told was duty of the police, when he said that when the police try to keep open the pathway the crowd laugh and jeer at them!!! What tender feelings these policemen do have, and how forgetful they are that other human beings have fine feelings and are sensible of pain when it is inflicted by means of a policeman's club. However, he was told that if the police were scoffed at and laughed at, it was not the fault of the speaker, and therefore he could not be held responsible for that. After a few more remarks by the chief, which were met and parried, he concluded to release the comrades, no bail having been given and no notice to appear in court, although when arrested the comrades were charged with "disturbing the peace." The charge was so flimsy and weak, they did not want the case to come up for trial, knowing so well what the outcome would be, so they have evidently decided to pursue different tactics, as the following will show. When the comrades were released the chief immediately left, leaving this captain to talk and reason with the comrades, while walking back to the place of meeting, which is only two squares from the city hall. This officer evidently had received his cue from his superior, for he commenced to praise the chief, told the comrades that they had friends that they little dreamed of, that they had lots of friends whom they knew nothing of, saying it in such a way as to imply more than what was said. Wasn't there some particular corner that we wanted? "No, we want the right ty and could not see him; toid him where to use any of them." And in answering this, he was plainly given to understand that we could not under any circumstances recognize their right to give any one an exclusive right to use a particular corner, and he having told the comrades that the police had given the Salvation Army and Volunteer Army certain corners, he was told after Section be noned that they will learn the class | Denver had grown to such proportions as to spread out and occupy a number of corners in one night, if any of the comrades should happen across a corner that had been occupied regularly for months b any religious or other organization, in spite this seeming priority, if they are not there in time to secure it ahead of the Socialists, rest assured it will be occupied by the Socialists, the permit or protection of the police to the contrary notwithstanding.

Seeing that nothing could be done, this captain left in disgust,

Comrade Fowler again took the stand and spoke for about forty minutes, and Comrade Mullein followed. Our sales of literature have been most satisfacand also subscriptions for the WEEKLY PEOPLE have been good, but we expect to make this part much better. The pamphlets which we largely dispose of are such as "What Means This Strike?" and the De Leon-Harriman debate, and the workers of this State are being told of the doings of the and what seed is now sown will very soon bear S. To Co-operative Commonwealth via Hospitals!

To THE PEOPLE-The Social Democrats of Lynn are at last going to put their theory into practice. We are going to have "Socialism in our time." going to have something now. Circulars were distributed in all the factories announcing that an emergency hospital will open in Lynn soon, and that that intellectual Debsite, Dr. J. A. Keown (it would be hard to say for certain what the doctor's real name is. He used to be known as McKeown. He many names as his party) would be the Surgeon-in-Chief, who will be assisted by an able corps of assistants. I wonder if the Rev. Dr. Herron's name is on th list to officiate at the autopsies and funerals.

Among other beautiful thoughts expressed in the circular is the following: "An ambulance wal be at the service of residents of Lynn suffering injury, which will take them to the hospital in a few minutes.'

"To make this a first-class hospital every workingman should pay a dollar, either for himself or to help his brother worker." The ambulance chasers will be in clover. The poor dupes of the Tobin-Eaton Boot and Shoe Workers' Union can now have a free bed in the Emergency Hospital, and draw their sick and death benefit, as they will have a cemetery in the back yard of the hospital. They will also have that free day-nursery which they fought so hard for in the last campaign.

But the new hospital will need patients. Why not import Jeems Carey of Haverhill, and obtain his advice about building n new armory that the capitalists may shoot down the working class when they go on strike, and in that way get some patients for the hospital? Jeems is an expert, you know, at sanitation.

They may be tender-hearted enough to admit consumptive Social Democratic papers too. The circular bears upon it the stamp "Organized Scabbery," the pure and simple union label. Perhaps that will also be a patient.

The three-fourths wage workers who will be "share-holders" will be controlled by the one-fourth capitalist, or any old thing that the one-fourth may consist F. A. W.

in anonymous letters. All letters must carry a bona tide signature and address.]

B. S. W., INDIANAPOLIS, IND.—P. J. McGuire was recently deposed from his office in the Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners. His organization has nobody to thank for being rid of such a misleader but the S. T. & L. A. It is the reveiations, borings from without, that the S. T. & L. A. press made about him that compelled his downfall. When the S. T. & L. A. started and a carpenter's local in Staten Island wrote to McGuire proposing the joining of the S. T. & L. A., the block-head answered: "The S. T. & L. A. is not a year old and will never see its second year." There goes P. J., while the S. T. & L. A. is keeping the mud batteries of Organized Scabdom agoing at a rate that must "bust" them, eventually, if not sooner. Ever steady; bore from without! B. S. W., INDIANAPOLIS, IND .- P. J.

R. B., KANSAS CITY, MO.—The account of the Vienna shoemakers was correct, and equally so the comment thereon. The more perfect the machine of production becomes the further removed are the workers from the feudal personal relations. The more primitive the tool, the casier is the life of the toiler. The modern wonder-tool is a slave driver than whom none in the palmiest days of Southern chattel slavery piled the last more pitilessly.

D. S. D., BUENA VISTA, PA.—What we now on the subject is that an official circular of the United Mine Workers, sealed and signed "H. B. Wilson, Sec. Treas." and bearing date of April 8, 1901, shows 345 Locals of that Union in bad standing.

T. S., WINONA, MINN.—Why, man, the thrice-united Social Democrats are already in one another's wool. The howl may not yet have reached you; it will in due time. The motto of the concern, borrowed from Langa it. yet have reached you; it will in one the the motto of the concern, borrowed from Lesage, is:

"We were brought together, we embraced, and ever since we are mortal enemies."

F. B. T., ST. LOUIS, MO.—He must be a bold man who would risk an accurate explanation of the particular wheels within wheels that move the present Steel Strike. It is too early as yet to know that exactly. Taking, however, as a starting point the fact that the strike is not for wages but for organization, it differs essentially from the strike of '02; coupling with that one and other little things that have leaked out, indications point to Mark Hanna as the instigator and backer of the strike. The affair looks like a stock exchange war.

H. P. T., DETROIT, MICH.—No one who speaks with competence attempts to deny that the capitalist class lives upon wealth produced by the working class.

A. W. M., NEW YORK.—Granted your premises that these Bissert and Diamond prosecutions are a repetition of Lexow Committee days, then your conclusion that a second reform wave is on is mistaken. These Bissert and such trials have created no such sensations as the Lexow revelations did. And 'tis natural. That reform government was a rip-roaring farce. The visinertia will keep people to the ills they suffer rather than fly off to experiments trathave disillusioned them. Vote S. L. P.; there is nothing to do now but to build.

O'R., NEW YORK.—In addition to the above, if the answer "yes" or "no" to the question: "is Tammany rotten?" will do you any good, why, YES, emphatically YES. It is rotten to the core. How will you go about to abate the nuisance?

T. J., ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Wilshire is still prowling around here. Guess the Kangaroos are trying to keep him here: he is such a natural-born leg-pullee.

W. R., PHILADELPHIA, PA. W. R., PHILADELPHIA, P.A. The maxing of such hazardous charges can only be accounted for on the general principle chat some of most handfuls of mud which are thrown are likely to stick. The theory fails, however, in great movements. There time always removes such mud stains and fastens them on the slinger. When such mud-slinging tactics are resorted to, the mud-slingers know their day is short.

E. S., NEW YORK.—That's easily set-tled. Just mention the name of a single prominent Tammany man who is not a grinder of the faces of the poor. Now, put up, or shut up.

D. D. R., PHILADELPHIA, PA.—Since then, the Grand Jury has made a strong presentment against the Park avenue tunnel of the New York Central Raliroal, and that is all. Much may come of it provided public indignation is kept up; with the approach of cooler weather the indignation is apt to subside. In that case the company and the politicians will "see each other," and that would be the end of the trouble till next summer again. Matters have been taking this turn for the last ten years, at least.

S. Y. MILWAUKEE, WIS.—Jaures did talk about "masks dropping" when the honorable, but hitherto credulous Social-ist delegates got up and left the Lyons convention. The only mask that was drop-ned was bis.

R. R., CLINTON, IA.—No; there is no further step to record in the progress of Bryan's "coming our way." Would you have him take such a long step every day? Why, then, he would out Socialists.

H. H. M., BOSTON, MASS.—Excuse us Life is too short to seek to fathom such bourgeois intrigues as the Schley-Sampson affair. The matter deserves consideration only in so far as it reveals all round bourgeois coarseness.

E. K., SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—Not a bit! Through all the mist raised by the perplexing telegrams from Manila, the fact remains that a strong army and navy are the chief reliance of the Washington Administration to rule the Islands.

W. L. D., CLEVELAND, O.—As you may judge both from the Sprague strike lie and the New Haven Debate, the borers from within must, however stupid they may otherwise be, have a pretty clear idea of the rottenness of their case.

D. F. ALBANY, N. Y.—That's all very pretty. And how will you conduct yourself in case of a strike started by one employer to injure a competitor, and in which the "Union" officers act as the agents of that one employer? Will you shut your eyes, and pretend not to see? Or your ears, and pretend not to hear? Just answer that.

H. S., PORTCHESTER, N. Y.—The best, the very best you could say for the views of the "blocks of voters" that "are breaking away from the old parties" and are hovering around the S. L. P. without joining is that such views are at the stage of what is known as "incoherent transition."

D. S., YONKERS, N. Y.—The headings in that calumnious article in the "Volkszeitung's" poodle, allas "Worker," were: "Shameful Betrayal."
"An Example of 'Organized Scabbery' as Practised by the S. T. & L. A."
"Double Treason of Delonite Organization in Strike at the Sprague Electrical Works at East Orange, N. J."
The context of the article you may gather from the refutation of the strikers and from Spindler's letter, who, we think, was also a striker.

I. D. T., CHICAGO, ILL.—The farmer's interest can not be said to be identical with that of the working class except as figure of speech. So is Gould's interest, in that wage slavery, just as chattel slavery did, degrades and brutifies, not the slave only, but the slave-holder as well. Such figures of speech are mischievous in that they are misleading, they blur over the scientific distinctions without which no progress is possible.

O.H.G., WATSESSING, N.J.—The act of scabbing certainly is ground for expulsion from the S. L. P.

I. C. D., JAMAICA PLAIN, MASS.— Your letter has been passed over to the Labor News Company.

J. K. AND OTHERS, NEW YORK.—It is not possible to make out what you mean. F. J. B., REVERE, MASS.—The matter, as you will notice, is very acceptable. By all means, do.

T. J. S., SYRACUSE, N. Y.—1. Hickey was expelled by Section Greater New York. 2. The Sprague strike began May 23.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—All comrades, wherever situated, who have seen in the public press of their localities accounts of the prosecution instituted against Comrade Corregan of Syracuse by his printers' Union, see requested to forward such papers to J. Trainor, 606 So, Clinton street, Syracuse, N. Y. The account was seat out by the Associated Press from Syracuse, Aug. 1.

E. C. D., ST. LOUIS. MO.—1. The hullabaloo of loy upon there being more gold in the United States Treasury now than ever before proceeds, where henestly made, from false economic premises. Shall endeavor to secure article dealing with the matter in detail.

2. As far as we know, Bebel has preserved slience on the Kautsky resolutions. He had been caving in some time previous.

E. S. M., EVERETT, MASS.—The report was received all right. Owing to its great length publication was deferred to the Monday issue of the DAILY PEOPLE.

Secretary stated that he had been in-structed by this District to call a meet-ing of L. A. 1, as they had not held a meeting since May 11th 1901. Had called the meeting at the time he thought was most convenient for the majority of the members, and could not therefore see where he had gone beyond his powers, as he had only followed instructions of the District.

After a lengthy discussion, the motion to disapprove of the action of the Sec-retary in the matter of calling meeting of L. A. 1, was lost by a vote of 7 in favor and 10 against.

The motion that Delegate Kuhn ex plain was then carried. He then moved the sending of the following letter to the National Executive Committee, and that Comrade De Leon be elected as a Com of this Section to take the to the N. E. To the National Executive Committee S. L. P.:

Comrades-The General Committee of Section New York, in regular session assembled this day, requests a ruling from the N. E. C, upon the following facts: 1. Thomas A. 3. On June 23, 1901,, the State Committee issued a call for a general vote to fill the vacancy created by Hickey's expulsion, with the nominees presented by Section New York. The general vote was to close on August 1, 1901.

4. On August 5, at a regular session of the State Committee, Hugo Vogt, Max Forker and Patrick Murphy, (Alfred C. Kihn and Henry Kuhn dissenting), re fused to canvass and announce the vote and to seat the comrade elected by the general vote, and decided to call upon Section New York to state to the State Committee the Section's side of Hickey Hickey case, Hicker his side, and both tions in the State, on the theory that only upon such general vote, ordering his removal, can his seat become vacant.

5. The State Convention of the State, held June 8, 1900, enacted as follows State Convention shall elect a State Committee of seven members, vacancies to be filled by a general vote on nominations to be made by the Section that is the seat of the committee, re-movals on referendum or demand of three Senatorial Districts in two counties," We hold that the conduct of the major ity in the State Committee is without varrant in the Party's laws, is destruc tive of that sense of equality among the mbership essential to our organization. and is fraught with grave danger to the organic integrity of the whole Party. It annuls Sections 7 to 12, Art. II., of the National constitution on the pro-cedure in cases of trials, expulsions and appeals, and enacts, high-handedly, a new procedure, applicable only to Section members on the State Committee. thus placing these on a pedestal above the rest of the membership, with privil-eges and immunities denied to the rest.

A member of this Section, who happens to be at the same time a member of the State Committee, is thereby free Committee, and, dispensing with the otherwise obligatory intermediary steps of an appeal to a general vote of the Section and the steps of t tion, and thence to the State Committee. present his case, for the first time, be-fore the Court of last resort—the gencral vote of the Party membership in the State—and thus turn that Court of Appeal into a Court of original jurisdic tion, all the time enjoying the privileges of a Party member, in violation of Section 12, Art. 11, of the constitution which provides: "No expelled or suspended member shall be accorded the privileges of a member of the Party unless properly reinstated." This is no imaginary or exaggerated bypothesis. It fits exactly the Hickey case. He was summoned by the Grievance Committee of this Section. He spurned the summons and was expelled, and stands to-day ex-pelled under the ruling of the National Executive Committee, made on May 3, 1901, to wit: "No member of the Party can appeal from a decision of his Section, or from a decision of its delegated central body, if such member has refused to appear before the Grievance Com-mittee of the Section to stand trial."

But the conduct of the majority of the State Committee goes further in its mis-chievous effect. It exposes the organic integrity of the Party to the danger of non-Party members being in the State Committee. The primary laws of some States, Massachusetts for instance, compel the Party to submit to this danger. The danger was no theory there. It became a fact during the late Kangaroo riots. And not slight were the troubles and trials that the Party was there put to, in order to counteract the danger Now, then, the danger that the capital istic conception of a political Party inflicts upon our Party organization in Massachusetts, the majority of the State Committee of this State, where, fortunately as yet, no such public law threatwould deliberately inject into our con-stitution. We hold that the provisions into engines for mischief. In this grave conflict of opinion we request the National Executive Committee to make a definite ruling upon the question whether it is correct incorrect to hold: "All offices held a Party member become vacant upon his expulsion from the Party." For the General Committee, Section New York, S. L. P. read and accepted. The treasurer report-
