IDA MAY KLEIN,

What could be accomplished in a society, where the present dogext-dog mode of existence did not prevail, was indicated in speeches delivered at the Thirteenth Annual Convention of the College of Surgeons just held in Chicago.
Spaaking of cripples, Dr. Fred H. Alben head of the commission on rehabilitation in New Jersey, described that the salvaging of cripples by means of bone surgery proper nourishment and the consequent disease, of cheets in children, he said, is the common-ment, this bit tasks of the day. Lack of proper nourishment and the ward the common control of the common curvalent in the com
